Head Start Volunteers Lay Plans

A volunteer Head Start program will get underway in Sedalia Jan. 15, affecting 20 children, it was announced at a meeting of Mid-Missouri Community Action Corp., recently.

The children will receive Head Start training, hot lunches, medical attention and transportation to and from classes, according to Mrs. Zelena Stultz, parent coordinator.

The project is set to run for five months, and will be conducted at the Reorganized Church of Jesus Christ of Latter Day Saints, 900 East Ninth, which has donated space and facilities for Head Start.

Mrs. Stultz reported that 10 parents and 15 volunteers have signed up to date, and added that more volunteers would be needed.

The first fund-raising project for the volunteer Head Start program will be a "Mile-of-Pennies" in the downtown business district and shopping centers on Friday and Saturday, where donations may be placed on measured strips of tape placed on the sidewalks.

Head Start must be put on a volunteer footing here since federal funds are only available for the summer Head Start program.

Mrs. Stultz also announced the formation of "Big Sister" project, in which two young women have volunteered to become "big sisters" to two teenage girls with problems, providing advice and counsel.

W. T. Talbot, program developer for MMCAC, reported Tuesday that a grant of $25,000 from the Missouri Council of Churches has been received by MMCAC for Missouri Association of Migrant Opportunity Services, Inc., (MAMOS), to provide on-the-job retraining for 20 seasonal farm workers in Benton and Morgan Counties.

The money will provide for the first increment of 23 weeks of training, and should be followed by more grants, according to Talbot. Migrant workers would be trained in skills needed in the two counties, such as plumbing, construction work, auto repair, etc.

Talbot also stated that furnding of $250,000 is expected soon for the "Older Americans" program in which 78 elderly persons in the four-county area would be trained and placed in jobs with non-profit companies. Thirty of the 78 would be Pettis Countians, Talbot said.

Deferment Ring Broken With Arrests in Chicago

CHICAGO (AP) — Thirty-one men, including three employes of the Illinois National Guard, were arrested today on charges of using phony documents to win deferment in the draft.

Brig. Gen. Richard T. Dunn, head of the Illinois National Guard, said that when a man enlists in the Guard, a form is sent to his Selective Service Board indicating he is a member of the Guard. The government alleges, he said, that spurious forms were used in this case.

J. Edgar Hoover, director of the FBI, announced in Washington that eight men had been named in an indictment returned by a federal grand jury in Chicago Tuesday and warrants had been issued for 27 others.

The FBI made the arrests, all but one in the Chicago area. Four other men were being sought.

The FBI called the case a scheme which resulted in individuals obtaining illegal deferment in the draft.

Agents arrested three fultime employes of the Illinois National Guard. They are Capt. Willus Everett Vivian, about 49, who works in the Washington Park Armory on Chicago's South Side; and Sgts. Willie Britton Jr., 37, and Ben L. Cleveland, 51. Britton and Cleveland now work in the Chicago Avenue Armory on the near North Side. But Gen. Dunn said they and Vivian all were stationed in the Washington Park Armory prior to Feb. 1.

Gen. Dunn, who lives in Bloomington, said he had offered to help federal officials in any way he can.

The FBI said the alleged plan "involves spurious documents being submitted to local draft boards indicating that various selective service registrants were members of the National Guard when, in fact, they were not such members."

"These fictitious documents," the FBI said, "resulted in the registrants being granted illegal deferments."

The three guardsmen and five others were charged with aiding draft evasion, causing false statements to be made to draft boards and conspiracy to violate the Selective Service Act.

The others among the eight indicted are Marc Lee Rasnick, 26, of Miami Beach, an employe of a lounge in Miami, Fla., who was arrested in Florida; Nat Sheldon Shapiro, 22, of Skokie, a Chicago suburb, who works for a manufacturing firm; Paul Michael Diamond, 24, a Chicagoan who works for a distribution firm; Gerald Allan Leon, 22, who works for a liquor store in Chicago; and Gary Vincent Rodman, 22, an employe of a Chicago bank.

The 27 named in the warrants were charged with failing to report to their draft boards that they had not enlisted in the Guard.

'Intelsat 3' Ready For Work in Space

CAPE KENNEDY, Fla. (AP) — While preparations for the Apollo 8 ring around the moon shot moved ahead today, another launch team readied the world's most powerful communications satellite for launching tonight.

Intelsat 3, intended to double transatlantic satellite telephone and television links, is scheduled to ride into space atop a three-stage Delta rocket at 7:32 p.m. It is to be placed in stationary orbit 22,300 miles above the Atlantic Ocean off the coast of Brazil.

The National Aeronautics and Space Administration is launching the satellite for the 63-nation telecommunications satellite consortium for a fee of $4.7 million.

The Apollo 8 astronauts, Air Force Col. Frank Borman, Navy Capt. James A. Lovell Jr. and Air Force Maj. William A. Anders, climbed into a spacecraft simulator this morning, adding to the more than 250 hours each has logged in the training device.

Later, they planned to meet with Launch Director Rocco A. Petrone and astronaut Michael Collins, who will be the chief ground communicator with Apollo 8. Collins, an Air Force lieutenant colonel, originally was to have flown the mission but was replaced by Lovell after he underwent spinal surgery last summer.

NASA reported weather conditions for Saturday's launching were predicted to be satisfactory, with considerable cloudiness, temperature in the 60s and moderate winds. The forecast also called for good conditions in the major recovery areas.

The lengthy countdown, which started Sunday night continued to proceed flawlessly toward the scheduled launch time of 7:51 a.m. EST Saturday.

Attention was focused on checking systems of the giant 36-story-tall Saturn 5 rocket which is to boost the astronauts on their quarter-million-mile trip to the moon. The first three days of the countdown concentrated on spacecraft systems.

Borman, Lovell and Anders are to orbit the moon for 20 hours on Christmas Eve and early Christmas Day, hoping to pave the way for other astronauts to land on the lunar surface next year.

SHOPPING DAYS 'TIL CHRISTMAS

Nation's Economic Growth to Speed Up

KANSAS CITY (AP) — After a slow first half the nation's economic growth will speed up next year resulting in a 2.7 per cent increase in the gross national product in 1969, Dr. Gordon W. McKinley, an economist, said Tuesday.

He said strength in housing and capital expenditures will be offset by leveling federal spending and cautious business and consumer attitudes during the first part of next year.

The second half of the year, he said, would be spurred by increased consumer and federal spending along with housing starts and capital expenditures.

Extent of Program In County Detailed

A summary of Mid-Missouri Community Action Corp., anti-poverty programs in Pettis County — and what would be lost should the city and county withdraw from the agency — was presented at a meeting of MMCAC and government officials held Tuesday night at the Farm and Home Building.

W. T. Talbot, MMCAC program developer, said there are 17,509 persons in the four-county area who are classified as impoverished, 6,000 of which live in Pettis County, the highest of the four.

Talbot tabulated the yearly expenditure in Pettis County under the MMCAC program at $115,024, which covers versatile funds, summer Head Start and Neighborhood Youth Corps, and excludes local purchases of goods and services. He added that the "Older Americans" programs, which is expected to be funded early next year, would allot $250,000 to the four-county area, approximately $96,150 of which would go to Pettis County.

"People are the greatest resource of any community, whether that community be as small as a village or as large as a nation," Talbot stated in remarks accompanying the figures. "In the development of a person toward his fullest potential as a useful and respected citizen, counseling, encouragement and job placement services are intangible assets of personnel management that cannot be converted to dollar value."

It was pointed out by Talbot and Richard Adams, Warrensburg, president of the area board of MMCAC, that neither summer Head Start nor the Neighborhood Youth Corps programs in Pettis County could receive federal money if Pettis County and the city "opt out" of MMCAC. Plans for Head Start next summer would involve 90 children, the same as last year, they added.

Letters were read at the meeting from the Northside Citizens Association and the Civic Affairs Committee of the Sedalia-Pettis County Ministers Association, urging that the city

Johnson Enters Hospital

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Johnson entered Bethesda Naval Hospital today, suffering from what was described as a cold and a fever. He may remain several days.

Vice Adm. George G. Burkley, the President's physician, issued an advisory through the White House press office at noon EST, two hours after Johnson entered the hospital. It said the President is suffering from an "upper respiratory infection with a slight bronchial irritation."

White House press secretary George Christian said Dr. Burkley also told him Johnson has a "rasping cough" and a "slight sore throat."

Christian also said Johnson's chest feels tight and his voice "is somewhat hoarse."

"The President hasn't felt up to par for the last couple of days," Christian said, "but his temperature was normal until last night when he had a low grade fever."

Christian said the President's temperature upon admittance to the hospital was 101.6 degrees.

Dr. Burkley informed the press secretary that Johnson was "under adequate medication for the indicated diagnosis." Christian said that Johnson was resting in his third floor suite. He also added that the President would be put on a soft bland diet.

Christian said the President had "both types of flu vaccines earlier this year."

Christian was pressed repeatedly by reporters as to whether Johnson was suffering from a flu virus that is currently sweeping the nation—the Hong Kong flu.

Money is Tightened To Slow Inflation

NEW YORK (AP) — Major banks raised their prime interest rates on business loans a quarter of a point to 6¾ per cent today, the highest on record.

The rate increase was led by First National City Bank of New York and was immediately followed by Chase Manhattan, Morgan Guaranty Trust Co., Irving Trust Co., Manufacturers Hanover Trust Co. and Bankers Trust Co. of New York and other banks.

The boost in the prime rate followed Tuesday's action by the Federal Reserve Board in Washington raising the discount rate to 5½ per cent from 5¼ per cent. The discount rate is the interest charged member banks for borrowing from the Federal Reserve System.

The prime rate is the interest banks charge their most creditworthy customers, such as large corporations. Other interest rates such as consumer-loan rates are scaled up from the prime rate.

The 6¾ per cent is the highest prime rate charged by banks since such rates went into effect in 1947. At that time, the prime rate was set at 1½ per cent.

In announcing its boost in the prime rate, First National said it was acting to bring the prime rate in line with other money market rates.

The nation's banks had lowered their prime rates in September in anticipation of a slowdown in the economy and easier credit as a result of the income tax surcharge.

The economy failed to cool off as expected.

Many bankers and economists praised the interest rate boost, although they said it was expected.

Dr. Saul Klaman, vice president and chief economist of the National Association of Mutual Savings Banks, analyzed the rate cut this way:

"If the discount rate is short-lived, and my own view is that it will be, then mortgage rates will rise temporarily, choke off further economic expansion and dampen inflationary expectations."

Some observers expressed doubts, however, about the effect of the Reserve Board's action.

"Unless this increase is an indication the Federal Reserve Board is getting tougher, this thing won't work," said Walter Klein of the Associated Industries of Massachusetts.

Other developments, reported Tuesday, providing a backdrop for the Federal Reserve policy change included:

—Another rise in the industrial production index, indicating the output of the nation's industries rose in November to 167.4 on a scale that pegs output in the 1957-59 base period at 100. The rise was the strongest in one month since May.

—Another rise in the industrial production index, indicating the output of the nation's industries rose in November to 167.4 on a scale that pegs output in the 1957-59 base period at 100. The rise in one month was the strongest since May.

—Personal income still climbing, though at a slower rate than a few months ago. Wages and salaries, which account for two-thirds of personal income from all sources, were up 9½ per cent in the first 11 months of the year.

—A 7 per cent spurt in housing starts in November, mainly in the South. But housing industry spokesmen fear the onset of a tight money period would cut deeply into available funds for mortgages.

Earlier this month the government reported unemployment dropped in November to 3.3 per cent, lowest in 15 years. Many economists see rapidly rising prices as almost inescapable when unemployment reaches such low levels—a situation posing unpleasant choices for those trying to steer the economy from Washington.

No Gold Price Change Is Anticipated By Nixon

NEW YORK (AP) — President-elect Nixon's principal spokesman said today the incoming chief executive does not anticipate any change in the $35 an ounce official price for gold.

Gold was back in the headlines following a Tuesday news conference at which David M. Kennedy, Nixon's choice for secretary of the Treasury, declined to firmly embrace the long standing price at which the U.S. government buys and sells gold in dealings with other nations.

Ronald L. Ziegler, Nixon's press spokesman, gave newsmen a carefully prepared statement which said:

"The subject of any changes in the price of gold has not been discussed and we do not anticipate any changes ... in the price of gold."

During the campaign, Nixon said he saw no reason to change the official gold price and Ziegler said no alteration of this position was anticipated.

The press aide, in response to a question acknowledged that he had conversed with Kennedy by telephone before talking to reporters. He also indicated that he spoke for Nixon himself on the subject.

"This of course is a very sensitive subject," he said.

On another subject, Nixon is said by a U.S. diplomat to have suggested he may soon signal that he believes the time has come for the Senate to approve a treaty to control the spread of nuclear weapons.

But officially, the Nixon position is unchanged—and vague.

U.S. disarmament negotiator William C. Foster was quoted Tuesday as saying Nixon had

South Vietnam Ready To Talk About Truce

SAIGON (AP) — The South Vietnamese government said today it is ready to talk with North Vietnam about truces for New Year's Day and Tet, the lunar new year festival.

Hanoi was expected either to ignore the invitation or tell the Saigon regime to talk to the Viet Cong's National Liberation Front, in line with the Communist contention that the Viet Cong and not the North Vietnamese are fighting the war in South Vietnam.

This would bring the question of further holiday cease-fires back to its present status, since Saigon refuses to recognize the NLF and to negotiate with it.

The Viet Cong has already announced unilateral three-day cease-fires for Christmas, New Year and Tet, which next year comes on Feb. 17. The South Vietnamese government has announced only a 24-hour cease-fire for Christmas, and the U.S. Command says it will observe this truce period also.

A communique from South Vietnam' foreign ministry today said Saigon's 24-hour Christmas truce would not be extended because it has "no confidence in (the Communists') good faith when they announced a three-day truce." The communique cites "the treacherous violations by Hanoi and its auxiliary forces during the Tet truce" last February, when the Viet Cong launched its biggest offensive of the war, and "assassinations, kidnapings, , shellings and terrorist attacks that occurred in the previous truces proposed by the Communist themselves."

"It is still too early," the communique said, "to make any decision concerning a possible stand down in military operations for New Year's Day and Tet. In case Hanoi wishes to seek a truce arrangement for New Year's Day and Tet."

Flu Epidemic Is 'Disaster,' Say Officials

BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

The American Red Cross calls the nationwide influenza epidemic a "disaster situation," and the health commissioner in the hardest-hit city—New York—predicts it will be even worse there by New Year's Day.

O'Rourke said 300,000 persons were currently in the most critical stage of the disease. And he predicted that the city's epidemic would peak during the first week in January, probably around the start of the new year.

Meanwhile, reports of outbreaks of respiratory illnesses including Hong Kong flu continued to come from all sections of the country.

The Red Cross asked its chapters to provide workers and supplies to hospitals, schools and nursing homes. Hospitals throughout the country restricting visits in order to avoid exposing patients to the flu virus

Reversal By Saigon On Viet Cong Flag

PARIS (AP) — South Vietham proposed—and then withdrew—a plan that would bar the Viet Cong from displaying its flag at the Vietnam peace talks, Saigon sources said today.

The South Vietnamese change of mind came at the urging of the U.S. delegation on the theory North Vietnam would reject the plan. The flag issue remains in dispute between the United States and North Vietnam.

This is one of questions blocking efforts to get the expanded conference off the ground.

The South Vietnamese sources said Saigon's chief delegate, Pham Dang Lam, suggested to American negotiators that only government delegations should be allowed to display flags and name plates on the conference table.

This would deny a symbol of sovereignty to the Viet Cong's National Liberation Front, considered an outlaw by Saigon.

Instead of raising it with the North Vietnamese, the Americans quietly persuaded Lam to drop the idea, the sources said.

The North Vietnamese have demanded that all four delegations —the United States, North and South Vietnam and the National Liberation Front—be allowed to show flags and nameplates. Lam told the United States this proposal was completely unacceptable to Saigon.

American officials indicated that on this issue, at least, a compromise might be worked out under which none of the delegations would display flags or name plates. It was with this compromise in mind, the sources said, that the Americans persuaded Lam not to press the issue.

Hanoi considers the front the legitimate government of South Vietnam and wants full status

Federal Agents Lead Search For Kidnaped Daughter of Millionaire

By LAURA FOREMAN
Associated Press Writer

ATLANTA, GA. (AP) — Where is Barbara Jane Mackle?

That question went unanswered today as federal agents led a nationwide search for the 20-year-old coed kidnaped from her sickbed at a motel near the Emory University campus.

The whereabouts of her multimillionaire parents was not known publicly, as officials — both local and federal—refused comment on the case.

The girl's mother, Mrs. Robert F. Mackle of Coral Gables, Fla., told De Kalb County police that Barbara was kidnaped about 4 a. m. Tuesday by a young gunman and boy accomplice, about 12.

Mrs. Mackle said she was held at gunpoint, chloroformed and then tied up by the boy while the daughter was taken from the room in freezing weather in her nightgown.

Mr. and Mrs. Mackle, members of a nationally prominent land development family, were last seen about 16 hours after the abduction was reported. Accompanied by FBI agents, the Mackles were riding in a car about the terminal area of the Atlanta airport.

"I don't think there's any reason to think anything will happen in the next few hours," said a De Kalb police captain wearily as the first 24 hours of the investigation drew to a close.

Neither police nor federal agents reported any leads in the case.

An Emory official said Barbara had been ill with the flu or a similar ailment for several days and had been staying with her mother at the motel in northeast Atlanta.

The father, secretary-treasurer of Deltona Corp., a $65-million homebuilding business in Miami, entered Mrs. Mackle's motel room with another man about 5:30 p.m. Tuesday. The couple left the motel at 7:12 p.m. and drove to the airport.

An FBI agent, Jack Keith, said the couple would spend the night where they could get "some rest, a little peace and quiet."

Mackle, 56, and his brothers, Frank Jr. and Elliott, pioneered the building of large, pre-planned communities in Florida.

The Mackles have a number of real estate holdings, including the Key Biscayne hotel, a long-time favorite hideaway of President-elect Nixon.

Police said they had no ransom note. But Detective Capt. J. L. Smith said Mrs. Mackle was "told what to do."

Classmates of the dark-haired, willowy coed refused, for the most part, to discuss the case. "It won't do any good," one girl said. "I'd really prefer not to talk about it."

Former classmates at Everglades School for Girls in Miami's Coconut Grove section recall Barbara as a shy, studious girl who was "very warm when you got to know her."

Ann Landers

Strangers Stare At Disfigured Child

Dear Ann Landers: I have an eight-year-old granddaughter who was severely burned when she was three-and-a-half years of age. The burns healed eventually, but her once beautiful little face is now badly disfigured and the skin is red and purple.

Whenever the child goes anywhere, people insist on staring. Some even gasp, as if the sight of her is revolting. I have been present when strangers have come up and asked, "What happened to the child?" All this within her hearing, mind you.

Can't they see that she met with an accident? Don't they realize it hurts us when she is singled out — and it hurts her, too.

Please, Ann, tell me what to say to these rude and thoughtless people. I can't find the words. — OREGON GRANDMA

Dear Oregon: The next time someone asks, "What happened to the child?" reply, "What possible interest could you, a stranger, have in the details?" And look the clod straight in the eye when you say it. He might learn something.

Dear Ann: I'm an average looking, hard working, fun loving, 21-year-old girl who has a great job. I live with two of the most wonderful people in the world, my parents.

I'm not thinking of getting married for at least five years, but something has been bothering me. I love children and I want a large family, but I don't want to have children. I want to adopt them.

Ever since I can remember I have been petrified of doctors. I hate pain. When anyone even talks about giving blood I must excuse myself. I get physically ill.

It would be unfair to marry a man and not tell him how I feel about this. Yet I realize no normal male would agree to adopt a family if he could have his own. Please tell me what to do, Ann. — M. I. CONFUSED?

Dear Friend: One of the strongest drives of all animals, including the human animal, is the drive to reproduce. An important element of romance and married love is the desire to produce a child with the combined qualities and characteristics of yourself and your beloved. When fear eclipses the most basic of human drives, it indicates the presence of a severe psychological impediment.

I'm glad you don't plan to marry for at least five years. You are not ready for marriage and you won't be ready until you rid yourself of this crippling fear. Get professional help, girl.

Tangled Plots Are Awaiting

HOLLYWOOD (AP) — Next month "Peyton Place" cuts back to one chapter a week on television. At the end of the season, the long-run serial will shuffle off the network, leaving a number of plots still tangled.

As it must to all TV series, "Peyton Place" will soon be breathing its last, consigned to daytime programming by anemic ratings. Paul Monash, the man who conceived the series and saw it through the five years and 500-plus episodes, has this feeling about the end:

"It's like watching an old friend die. You know it's a terminal disease, and that makes your friendship more precious than ever. But you keep your emotional distance in order to prepare yourself for the loss."

He has no regrets. After all, "Peyton Place" has had a good, long ride on ABC. The viewing public took immediately to the innovation of a continuing story on two nights a week. The success was such that the network added a third night, which seemed to some critics as being a bit greedy.

The third chapter was later dropped, and now the second one. Monash complained about how that was done: "ABC kept us on Monday opposite 'Laugh-in' 'Lucy' instead of Wednesday, where we were doing pretty well. That seems to be a sign that the network is abandoning the show, except in skeletal form. No show can hope to do well opposite 'Laugh-in'."

Can "Peyton Place" be saved?

"The only thing that can do it is an avalanche of mail," said the executive producer. Switching the metaphor, he reported, "so far there has been a current, but not a flood."

He added his own diagnosis of the show's ills: " 'Peyton Place' suffered from a virus that is bound to infect this kind of show. The longer it goes on, the more complicated the plot becomes. After we had done 250 shows, the viewer who tuned in and tried to follow the plot was apt to be fairly well confused.

"I have seen no survey on this, but I suspect that the bulk of our viewers have been watching the show since its beginnings. The others drifted away, and not enough new fans have been added.

"It's the fault of the form. Actually our shows this season have never been better; they're more vital, alive and contemporary. But we've succumbed to the erosion of five years of being on the air."

Convinced Britain Moving Toward Racial Difficulty

By GODFREY ANDERSON
AP Religion Writer

LONDON (AP) — Bishop Trevor Huddleston, once a fighter against apartheid in South Africa, is convinced Britain is heading for racial trouble—possibly this winter.

"I was involved in all this to the point of near-desperation in South Africa," he says. "Now I return to find the English at the point where, in my view, things are building up dangerously.

"The forces of prejudice have been unleashed in Britain. The language of (Enoch) Powell is dangerous language, putting fear into people's hearts where none should exist. Every time Powell speaks he makes it worse. Now the immigrant groups feel desperately insecure and it's very cruel that they should be.

"I think, I feel, that we're going to have quite a battle. Have no illusions. People have got to stand up and be counted."

The 55-year-old bishop, who made a name as a Church of England missionary monk during two decades in Africa, came home six months ago from being bishop of Masasi in Tanzania.

In October he became bishop of Stepney, a tough London district near the docks with many colored people in its million population. He took up residence among his people—the first bishop of Stepney to do so—in a house at 400 Commercial Road.

Bishop Huddleston says he hopes he can be a kind of ambassador for all these disparate immigrant groups.

"I will speak out where I feel I best can to influence the situation," he said. "I'll speak to university groups especially—they're very important."

The Stepney area has had a multiracial pattern so long that the bishop is not really worried about trouble in his own diocese. His fear is that it will come elsewhere, perhaps in the north or industrial Midlands if unemployment rises this winter.

"This is a population and a housing problem rather than a color problem," he says. "After all, there's a population explosion in the world. Our share is minute compared with, say India, but we are feeling the edges of it here."

What makes him so angry with Conservative maverick Enoch Powell, who recently proposed Britain set up a repatriation ministry to send the colored people home? The bishop feels Britain is on shaky moral ground here.

"We played our part in the slave trade which created the West Indies as they are today," he said. "It was our colonial policy that persuaded the Indians and Pakistanis to go to Kenya.

"Whether we like it or not, we are absolutely responsible for this situation and we must do our share in dealing with the world population problem in a civilized—and I should hope, Christian—way.

"I'd like to see a stronger Christian reaction. The church leaders are speaking out, making all the right noises, but Christian communities should go out in a positive way to take part in integration. The church is not pulling its weight as it could."

Record Death Toll Feared by Council

CHICAGO (AP) — The National Safety Council said today 1968 seems certain to be a record high year for traffic deaths and called for state legislation for "fullest possible compliance" with new federal standards for highway safety.

During the first 10 months of the year 45,000 lives were lost in traffic, 4 per cent more than during the same period of 1967.

The federal standards call for states to institute modern highway safety programs in many areas, including more realistic driver licensing procedures and refined emergency medical care.

Bob Hope On Hand for His Annual Show

TOKYO (AP) — Comedian Bob Hope, loaded with Christmas cheer and off-the-cuf jokes, enterained a GI audience of 22,000 today at the opening of his 18th annual Christmas visit to Japan.

After an introduction by Maj. Ted G. King, commander of Camp Zama, Hope told his audience:

"I knew we were in Japan because the smog is slanted. I got a warm welcome at Tokyo airport and then my kimono came down and they realized I wasn't Shirley MacLaine.

"They love Americans here in Japan. I guess they've forgiven us for Pearl Harbor."

Move Slow on Draft Law Questions

By BARRY SCHWEID
Associated Press Writer

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Supreme Court, moving slowly and carefully, has started to resolve draft law questions raised by the Vietnam war. But important decisions still lie ahead.

In rulings Monday the court said:

—Divinity students and others expressly exempted from the draft by Congress may not be shorn of their exemptions as punishment for antiwar views.

—A draft board's refusal to shield a man from military service as a conscientious objector cannot be tested in court before induction.

The decisions did not settle the basic issue of whether the Selective Service can use the draft laws to punish antiwar advocates.

This problem awaits the court in a case involving a draftee who doesn't have a statutory exemption and was classified 1A for turning in his draft card.

Draft boards, on a clear signal from Lt. Gen. Lewis B. Hershey, director of Selective Service, have been using delinquency regulations to expose opponents of the war to immediate induction.

The divinity student ruling reduces the boards' power and may be interpreted as a blow at Hershey policy.

Justice William O. Douglas, in the 6 to 3 decision said the Cheyenne, Wyo., draft board which classified divinity student James J. Oestereich 1A for turning in his draft card to the Justice Department acted in a "blatantly lawless manner."

Congress explicitly exempted from the draft divinity students and clerics, veterans, National Guardsmen and reservists, sole surviving sons and youths under 19.

These people, under the Oestereich decision, cannot be forced into service because of their political, racial or religious views.

Most Vietnam war critics do not fit into this category. And the second ruling may foreshadow gloomy days for them.

However, that ruling dealt with a bid for conscientious objector status—and did not involve allegations that the draftee, Charles Gabriel of Alameda County, Calif., was being punished for his views on the war.

The next draft issue to be taken up by the Court involves Lawrence R. Faulkner, a 25-year-old Cornell graduate, who was reclassified 1A after he handed in his registration certificate to a Buffalo board to protest the United States' war policy.

Faulkner had enjoyed an occupational determent as a teacher until he showed up at the board and denounced the war as immoral and illegal.

By then a graduate history student at the University of Buffalo, he was held delinquent for not having a registration certificate.

Faulkner sued and won a ruling in September by Federal Judge Anthony J. Travia of Brooklyn that cut a hole in the barrier against pre-induction suits.

When a draftee claims he was reclassified for exercising his rights to free speech, Travia said, he is entitled to a court ruling without taking a chance on going to jail to get one.

The Justice Department, which had conceeded Oestereich had such a right, makes no such concession in appealing to the Supreme Court.

Unless a draftee can get a ruling before induction he faces a dilemma. He can abandon his claim and accept induction. Or, he can refuse induction, be prosecuted by the government, and, with a possible jail term hanging over his head attack his reclassification while defending himself.

There is another way: accepting induction and then bringing Amendment grounds?

But at least one more step would remain: To decide whether, in any circumstances, it is constitutional to put at the very top of the list of draft-eligibles the kind of young men Hershey has characterized as "misguided registrants."

Use the Same Card

CHICAGO (AP) — The Scots are known for being thrifty but when it comes to Christmas cards there is no limit to thrift for a native of Aberdeen, Scotland, now living in Chicago.

In 1938, Mrs. Mollie Wieberg, sent a Christmas card to a suburban friend with instructions to send it back the following year.

The friend did and they have been mailing the now slightly yellow and dog-eared card back and forth every year.

Election System Not In Favor

JEFFERSON CITY (AP) — Missouri's 12 presidential electors went through the motions of casting their ballots for Richard M. Nixon Monday but some said they thought the system should be changed.

Henry Le Page, an at large elector and Cole County recorder of deeds, said the system is "outmoded and ought to be changed."

In congratulating the electors, Democratic Gov. Warren E. Hearnes called the system antiquated and outmoded and expressed the hope Congress would do something about it.

"If Missouri had been a pivotal state," he said, "it would have been very embarrassing to all our citizens" to have to wait for the cumbersome electoral college method of selecting a president.

Altogether three of the electors said they thought a change is needed and seven others said maybe, but they wanted to see some practical suggestion. Two thought no change is needed.

Said Mrs. Kate Powell of Higginsville, GOP state vice chairman, "I don't see what's wrong with the electoral college It seems to me there are a lot of other things that need changing first."

Mrs. Helen Capron of Normandy volunteered to pay her way to Washington to notify Congress of the Missouri action Jan. 6.

J.H.G. Cooper of Springfield acted as temporary chairman of the 35-minute session. He said he thought it might be feasible to base electoral voting on the congressional district vote.

Brezhnev Stronger Than Ever

WASHINGTON (AP) — Secretary of Defense Clark M. Clifford says the United States should negotiate an early Vietnam ceasefire and troop withdrawals, leaving the political settlement to Saigon, Hanoi and the Viet Cong.

"I have no idea that we should maintain 540,000 (American) men there fighting," Clifford said Sunday, "while we wait for Saigon and Hanoi to come to some political settlement."

Clifford also said a possible new enemy offensive in South Vietnam would not wreck the Paris peace talks, noting President Johnson had foreseen "hard bargaining and hard fighting ahead."

The defense secretary was interviewed on the CBS radio-television program "Face the Nation."

He suggested the U.S. role at the Paris talks should be limited to military matters and the more time-consuming political settlement should be left to the Vietnamese, including the Viet Cong's National Liberation Front.

"Now, I say that the political settlement is a matter between Saigon and Hanoi and the NLF," Clifford said. "Our military problem involves North Vietnam . . . I say the military settlement should come first."

The secretary expressed repeated annoyance with the prolonged dispute at Paris over seating of the four delegations. He said the squabbling is between Hanoi and Saigon, not involving the United States.

"I would like to get going at the Paris conference," he said. "I would like to start getting our troops out of there. I would like to see a ceasefire."

There is some indication the enemy may decide this month or next to launch a new "winter offensive" in the South, Clifford said.

He said there are indications of an enemy buildup, particularly in the Third Corps area in which Saigon is located.

But Clifford said such an offensive would not violate the agreement under which President Johnson halted bombing of North Vietnam, and noted that both sides have continued ground fighting since Johnson's announcement.

He said the major U.S. concern was infiltration across the Demilitarized Zone that would increase the jeopardy to U.S. troops, and said Hanoi is not believed to have violated that part of the agreement.

Can't Remember Man Who Left Her Cash

LOS ANGELES (AP) — "Unfortunately," says former actress Dolores Moran, "for the life of me I can't remember the man."

She was talking of Anthony Ponce, a 58-year-old bachelor recluse who left her most of his $250,000 to $300,000 estate.

Miss Moran, now 41, apparently met him when she was a 15-year-old carhop in Sunnyvale, Calif.

Joseph DeGioia, attorney for the will's executor, suggested Ponce may never have realized how much he was leaving Miss Moran. The will was drawn up in 1947. It left $6,000 to five nieces and a newphew and "all the rest of my real and personal property to Dolores Moran of Hollywood, Calif., formerly employed by Warner Brothers."

The other property included a 10-acre apricot grove that was worth perhaps $1,000 in 1941 when Ponce is believed to have met Miss Moran. Since then, the property has become surrounded by exclusive Sunnyvale housing developments. Attorneys estimate its value now from $250,000 to perhaps $300,000.

The nieces and nephew, all married and of modest incomes, say they plan to contest the will, filed for probate Monday.

Ponce lived in a modest house on the grove. Few in Sunnyvale, which is in northern California, knew him. A long-time friend, George Bonacich, said Ponce "never mentioned anybody. He was pretty close mouthed."

DeGioia also said Ponce never mentioned Miss Moran: "He just remembered her. He took a liking to her when she was a young girl and he dropped in at the drive-in for an occasional cup of coffee." She says her memory of the incident has been "washed away" by time.

Miss Moran, at 16, signed a seven-year contract with Warner Bros. She was called a "new Jean Harlow." She had star billings in "The Horn Blows at Midnight," "Johnny One-Eye," and "Old Acquaintance." She quit acting after marrying producer Benedict E. Bogeaus. They had one child, Brett, now 20, and were divorced four years ago. Bogeaus, who produced, among others, "The Bridge of San Luis Rey," died last August.

"Life is truly an extraordinary procession," Miss Moran said Tuesday of Ponce's will. "What a beautiful thing. It's phenomenal. I'm not living in poverty, certainly. But my reaction was one of marvel, awe."

Election Results Official

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Electoral College has made it official—Richard M. Nixon will be the 37th president of the United States.

And many of the 538 members who cast their ballots Monday also made something else clear—they think the college is outdated.

Balloting by the college went pretty much according to script as members met in the 50 state capitals and District of Columbia to fulfill the tasks voters chose them for Nov. 5.

There were exceptions in North Carolina and Michigan that left Nixon with 301 votes instead of 302, Democrat Hubert H. Humphrey wound up with the expected 191, and George Wallace, the third party presidential candidate, got one more than originally expected with 46.

A simple majority of 270 electoral votes were needed to elect.

In North Carolina, Dr. Lloyd W. Bailey of Rocky Mount, jumped the traces and cast his ballot for Wallace while the other 12 electors voted for Nixon.

"The Electoral College is one part of the system of checks and balances which guarantees that the minority voice can be heard," said Bailey.

In Michigan, former Democratic State Chairman Zolton Ferency, something of a political maverick, refused to cast his ballot for Humphrey who had won the state's 21 votes. The other electors picked a replacement to keep the delegation's Humphrey vote intact.

The U.S. Constitution technically allows the electors to vote for any candidate they choose. But tradition dictates, and some state laws demand, that the electors follow the result of the popular vote in their respective states.

Under the Constitution the popular vote for president actually is an election of the members of the Electoral College.

There were some other minor foulups.

North Carolina's electors found themselves without someone to administer an oath and it was more than an hour past the appointed time when they finally dug up a judge.

Modern Americana stalled the New York session at Albany when one bloc of electors got delayed in a stackup of commuter trains and the man who was supposed to preside was delayed when his flight got held up at crowded Kennedy International Airport.

The New York Democrats finally cast their ballots for Humphrey in the afternoon after eating lunch on the state's Republican administration—a fact they gleefully noted.

A spot check of electors across the land showed many unhappy with a system that may be on its last legs. A move in Congress to consider changing the venerable system by constitutional amendment got a big boost from Nixon's narrow, half-million vote popular victory.

Spirit of Unity Avoids Jerusalem

By RODNEY PINDER
Associated Press Writer

BETHLEHEM (AP) — The ghosts of Christmases past haunt the birthplace of Jesus, but the spirit of Christian unity is hardly discernible. Here, where the first cries of a baby born in a stable gave birth to an era, the celebrations of that night emphasize Christian dissension.

For a start, there are three main Christmases: Dec. 25 for Roman Catholics and Protestants, Jan. 7 for the Greek Orthodox, and Jan. 19 for the Armenians. Bethlehem basks in a month of festive cheer—four weeks of booming souvenir sales, garnishings of holly and, at times, the prickly squabbles of priests.

A rigid status quo—"Each to his own," explained Deputy Mayor George S. Diek—governs celebrations from Christ's birthplace down the fertile valley to the field where the angel appeared to tell the shepherds the news.

The 1,600-year-old Church of the Nativity, a massive, squat basilica of stone, lead and gold, sits over the grotto, the traditional manger.

The Greeks own most of it. The Catholics won a share in 1852, and a southern slice went to the Armenians. All sects can say High Mass somewhere under the sprawling roof.

The biggest celebrations are Dec. 25 when Bethlehem's population of 25,000 is usually doubled by pilgrims. The festivities follow an inflexible script.

The Catholic Church of St. Catherine, built cheek by jowl with the Church of the Nativity, has a High Mass led by the patriarch, Msgr. Alberto Gori of Jerusalem.

A procession winds its way to the grotto below the basilica. The Greeks have given permission—but the Catholics must not stray from their prescribed route.

During Turkish rule, explained the deputy mayor—who once was a tourist guide—priests laid small, round, hard peas on their precincts so that any trespasser would encounter a nasty fall on the cold stone floors.

These days squads of police line the route between the giant pillars of the basilica—below windows which only the Catholics are permitted to clean—to the cave where tradition says Jesus was born.

The actual spot of the birth is owned by the Greek Orthodox, so the Catholics can only say prayers there. They can, however, hold High Mass in the niche where Mary laid her baby to rest, which they own.

The official schedule carries a baleful reminder: "During the Latin (Catholic) services a Greek Orthodox dragoman and sexton stand on the right and the Armenian sexton on the left

"The police officer in charge watches from immediately behind the Latin representative and a party of police constables stand on the southern end of the staircase . . . immediately behind the police officer in charge."

The police officer in charge, to insure the strictest neutrality, is a Moslem Arab working for the Israelis, who have controlled access to Bethlehem since June 1967.

Out in the cold, literally, are the Protestants—who have only been allowed to take part at all since the British mandate.

They are in a courtyard adjoining the basilica, singing carols and praying under the frosty skies.

"If it rains heavily," said the deputy mayor, "they are allowed inside the Orthodox chapel. But it is small and only a few can crowd in."

Other Protestants, perhaps distrusting the good will of the weather at this time, pray inside the YMCA building a few blocks away.

Services are also held in the segregated Field of the Shepherds. As each denomination claims it owns the only true spot where the angel appeared, the field is divided among them.

The Church of the Nativity, crowned by crosses studded with colored light bulbs, stands against a street of sourvenir shops selling Bethlehem mother of pearl and carved wood.

There are 21 souvenir stores in town. Fourteen more will come with the new municipality building planned for one side of the Manger Square.

The square will have a new touch this Christmas.

A giant tree, which graced the town opposite the police station, died two years ago. Last year its dead branches were hung with lights and tinsel.

"This year we shall have a new one," the deputy mayor disclosed with pride.

"The Israelis are growing one for us at Tel Aviv."

Got His Chance

SACRAMENTO, Calif. (AP) — Gov. Ronald Reagan stopped on his way home from work Monday night to light the state's official Christmas tree outside the Capitol. He noted that last year his son Skipper got to light the tree but "I left him home so I could push the button this year."

Late Afternoon Wedding Vows Read for Klein-Hofstetter

In a late November ceremony at the Epworth Methodist Church, Miss Juanita Klein became the bride of Mr. Daryl Hofstetter. The Rev. Phillip Bowline read the late afternoon double ring vows for the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Jake Klein of Smithton and the son of Mr. and Mrs. Wilbert Hofstetter of Florence.

Lehmers Studio

Mrs. Daryl Hofstetter

Miss Debbie Schroder of Sedalia provided traditional organ selections and accompanied Mr. Leo Schroder of Smithton as he sang "With This Ring" and "One Hand, One Heart."

Given in marriage by her uncle, Mr. Mike Doyle of Altamont, Mo., the bride selected a laced satin gown of A-line design. The floor length dress featured scooped neckline, long tapered sleeves, and a three-tiered lace train extending to chapel length. She carried a bridal cascade of starburst mums and ivy.

Mrs. Carol Twenter, matron of honor, and Mrs. Beverly Highton, Warrensburg, and Mrs. Clara Harms, Milpitas, Calif., attendants and sisters of the bride, were identically attired in street length gowns of blue velvet.

Cathy Fethke, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Cleo Fethke of Versailles, dressed similarly to the honor attendants, was flower girl.

David Hofstetter, of Florence attended his brother as best man. Groomsmen were Junior Carver of Smithton and Keith Bremer. Bob Higdon of Warrensburg and Merle Merk seated the guests.

Tony Merk, son of Mr. and Mrs. Merle Merk served as his aunt's ringbearer.

Following the wedding, the couple received approximately 110 guests. Serving at the bride's table were Mrs. Clara Harms, Mrs. Carol Twenter and Mrs. Beverly Higdon. Mrs. Nancy Twenter was in charge of the guest book. Generally assisting at the reception were Mrs. Shirley Merk, Mrs. Cleo Fethke, and Mrs. Janice Fethke.

Both bride and groom are graduates of Smithton High School. The groom is employed at Brown's Automotive and Machine Shop in Sedalia.

Stay of Execution For Richard Speck

CHICAGO (AP) — Richard Speck, convicted slayer of eight young nurses, has been granted a stay of execution to permit his counsel to file an appeal to the Supreme Court.

The Illinois Supreme Court granted a stay Tuesday for the pock-marked drifter who was sentenced to die in the electric chair for strangling or stabbing the student nurses in a south side townhouse dormitory July 14, 1966.

The execution date had been set for Jan. 31 by the Illinois court after it turned down an appeal by Gerald W. Getty, the Cook County public defender. Getty submitted Tuesday an affidavit declaring his intent to ask the U.S. Supreme Court to review Speck's case.

and county remain in the anti-poverty program.

A letter was read at the meeting from the Pettis County Court addressed to Ralph Lee and Richard Adams, setting forth the court's original complaints about MMCAC and their reasons for withdrawing.

Mayor Ralph Walker stated that neither the city nor the county could have met the Dec. 1, date set by Adams for an investigation of the charges against MMCAC, an invitation Adams had extended when the complaints against the agency became known.

In answer to Walker's question as to why such an early deadline was set, Adams replied that he didn't want to drag the issue out, but would have extended the time if the city had so requested.

Modernized Procedures Are Urged

WASHINGTON (AP) — The House Ethics Committee today recommended modernizing House procedures to avoid errors in recording votes.

The committee suggestion in the form of an "interim recommendation" to Speaker John W. McCormack grows out of a continuing investigation ordered after disclosures that one member was recorded on several roll calls in September although he was not in Washington.

The committee, however, said that so far it has been "impossible to reach a final conclusion as to the cause or causes of specific discrepancies."

The suggestion comes as House Clerk Pat Jennings has been gathering information on an electric tallying system to replace the current practice of members calling "aye" or "no" in response to their names.

Unlike the voting machines used in some state legislatures, it would not eliminate the calling of the 435 names by a clerk. This procedure, requiring about half an hour, gives members time to come to the floor from their offices and, on close questions, gives leaders a chance to work on wavering members.

The tallying device would eliminate the present complicated manual tallying and counting of the vote. Moreover, it would flash each member's vote against his name on a visible scoreboard, giving opportunity for immediate correction of any mistakes.

The tallying machine also could be tied into a computer already used by the House for payroll and other records and thus could provide printouts of each roll call as soon as it is completed, plus breakdowns by party and states.

Chairman Melvin Price, D-Ill., wrote to Speaker John McCormack that the study of House voting, still going on, has already "disclosed numerous points at which human error can enter the system."

The investigation so far has included a comparison of every roll call vote in the House for a year with official travel records of members. The data is still being worked over, a spokesman said, and it appears the discrepancies are not of significant number and fall into no particular pattern.

It is certain, he said, that discrepancies did not determine the outcome of any vote on any piece of legislation.

told him the time may shortly be ripe for American action to ratify the treaty.

Foster made that comment to a newsman after Nixon visited the United Nations and chatted with U.S. and foreign diplomats at a half-hour reception.

The American negotiator was quoted as saying he found the Nixon view encouraging.

But he also relayed word that Nixon was not committing himself now to any timetable for action.

Foster told one of the few reporters permitted to attend the U.N. reception, that Nixon had said the time may or may not be right for action now or in the immediate future.

One ranking American diplomat, who asked that his name not be used, said he doubted whether there could be action on the treaty before President Johnson leaves office and Nixon takes over on Jan. 20.

During his presidential campaign, Nixon said U.S. ratification of the treaty should be delayed because of the Soviet invasion of Czechoslovakia. He endorsed terms of the treaty.

In Washington Monday, Senate Republican leader Everett M. Dirksen said after a meeting with the President-elect that he supports the treaty and its swift ratification and is prepared to vote for it if it comes up prior to the inauguration.

Ronald L. Ziegler, Nixon's press aide, said the President-elect was taking no public position on the issue now, even to the extent of reaffirming his campaign statements. "Mr. Nixon will not be stating positions between now and Jan. 20," Ziegler said.

Nixon went to the United Nations with his secretary of state-designate William P. Rogers and said the visit indicated "our continuing support of the United Nations and our intention in these years ahead to do everything that we can to strengthen this organization as it works in the cause of peace throughout the world."

Tuesday Nixon announced his appointment of Dr. Herbert Stein to be a member of the council of Economic Advisors. Stein has been senior fellow of the Brooklings Institute in Washington, Dc.

The President-elect also named John C. Whitaker to be his Cabinet secretary. Whitaker, a Washington businessman, was in charge of scheduling appearances during the Republican presidential campaign.

14 People Are Killed When Plane Crashes

SAIGON (AP) — A U. S. Air Force transport plane with 44 persons aboard crashed Tuesday south of Chu Lai, and the U. S. Command said initial reports indicate 14 persons were killed.

Most of the 30 other passengers and crewmen were injured, but only three were reported in serious condition.

All aboard were believed to be Americans.

U. S. Headquarters said the cause of the crash of the twin-engine C-123 Provider was not known. It said the aircraft plunged to the ground minutes after taking off from the Chu Lai airstrip and was demolished. An Air Force spokesman said the plane cartwheeled and burst into flames.

Names of the victims were withheld pending notification of next of kin.

Chu Lai is 58 miles south of Da Nang.

The plane carried a crew of four and 40 passengers.

'Cowlift' Operation Is Begun

FORT WORTH, Tex. (AP)—A massive "cowlift" has signaled the beginning perhaps of a new era in the cattle industry.

A sleek new jet with 262 Polled Hereford breeding cattle took off Tuesday for the southern tip of Chile and was due to arrive there early today.

"This maiden flight is not only historic, but it is researching airlifts with big shipments of cattle," said Orville Sweet, executive secretary of the American Polled Hereford Association of Kansas City.

"If successful, the flight will open a whole new world in livestock movement."

The flight wss arranged by the Hereford Association working with the U.S. Agency of International Development and CORFO, the developing bank of Chile.

The cowlift is designed to help Chilean ranchers develop their beef cattle industry.

Sweet said if the first two test flights were successful, eight additional flights would be made in January and 10 next October, totaling nearly 7,000 cattle.

He said there would be 4 per cent registered bulls and 96 per cent commercial heifers, ranging from four months to nine months of age.

The cowlift aircraft, a $10.5-million jet, is scheduled to return to Fort Worth late tonight for a second flight Thursday morning.

Jim Harris of the American Polled Hereford Association said the total shipment would be the largest airlift exportation of agricultural products in history —a $2.2-million package.

Money

Though he acknowledged the possibility that housing will suffer from a tightening of credit, Dr. Michael Sumichrast, chief economist of the National Association of Home Builders, said many builders will settle for a period of tight money if it can stop inflation.

David M. Kennedy, the Chicago banker who will move into Democrat Henry H. Fowler's spot as secretary of the Treasury when the Republican administration takes over Jan. 20, held a news conference Tuesday and indicated he'll tread lightly in making changes.

"I think it's a wait and see period for a few months," Kennedy said.

Kennedy would make no prediction on when the current 10 per cent income tax surcharge —President Johnson's principal weapon against inflation—will be removed by the Nixon administration.

"It should be at the earliest possible time," he said, "depending on the budget situation and inflationary developments in the economy."

Worry about inflation also caused the Bank of Canada to increase its interest rate by one-half per cent to 6½ per cent.

Reds to Meet For New Assembly Plan

PRAGUE (AP) — Communist leaders will meet in early January to discuss plans for a new National Assembly, Deputy Premier Petr Colotka said today.

Colotka, a member of the Communist party Central Committee, told a news conference that plans for the assembly, the legislative branch of the Czechoslovak government, were not discussed at a Central Committee meeting that ended Friday.

He said plans for a new federal Cabinet, the executive branch of the government, were approved by the Central Committee then, but he gave no names.

Ike's Brother Dies at 70 In Hospital

SCOTTSDALE, Ariz. (AP) — Earl D. Eisenhower, 70, brother of former President Dwight Eisenhower, died early today in a hospital where he had been a patient since Monday.

His son, Earl Jr., said Eisenhower, a resident of Scottsdale two years, suffered a heart attack Monday. It was his first such attack.

Eisenhower, a former electrical engineer with the West Penn Power Co. of Pennsylvania, later went into public relations and was elected to several terms in the Illinois legislature.

He retired to Scottsdale, near Phoenix, in 1966, after running unsuccessfully for Cook County Clerk in Chicago.

The next youngest brother of the former president, Eisenhower is survived by his widow Katherine, a son, Earl Jr., and a daughter, Mrs. Kay Morgan of Rockford, Ill.

Eisenhower's last political effort was a losing 1966 bid, running on the Republican ticket for Cook County clerk in Chicago's Democratic stronghold.

In 1964, making his first political plunge, Eisenhower topped all Republican candidates in an unprecedented at-large election for the Illinois House of Representatives.

At that time, the 67-year-old Eisenhower was public relations director for the Suburban Life Newspapers, serving 26 Chicago suburban areas. He had taken that job in 1954.

Eisenhower was graduated from the Abilene Kan., public elementary and high schools and then went to live with a brother in Tacoma, Wash.

He was graduated from the University of Washington with a degree in electrical engineering and became associated with the West Penn Power Co., with headquarters in Pittsburgh, one of the largest utilities in Western Pennsylvania.

Eisenhower, then living in Charleroi, Pa., near Pittsburgh, was associated with the utility for 26 years. He also became a member of the board of directors of the Connellsville, Pa., Daily Courier.

Upon his election to the Illinois House in 1964, Eisenhower said he regarded it "a one shot political deal."

"I'm sure I would't want to return," he said. "I'm certain we could find some young Republicans in the district who want to serve."

GRAY SUMMIT, Mo. (AP) — Stanley Lewis, of St. Clair, Mo., was killed Monday night when his car crashed at high speed on Missouri 100 in Gray Summit.

The patrol said Lewis' car careened off the road, striking a culvert, building, parked truck and tree. He was pronounced dead at the scene.

Use Christmas Bureau, Advises Salvation Army

Major Howard Froberg, commanding officer of the Salvation Army here, reminded Sedalians today that they should use the Christmas Clearing Bureau in their efforts to help needy families.

The bureau is a clearing house for food baskets, toys and other articles for the needy, and prevents duplication, with one family perhaps getting two baskets and another none.

"We ask all groups and individuals to clear through us to avoid some of the unfortunate situations we have had in the past," Major Froberg said.

The Salvation Army also reported Tuesday that its "tree of lights" now has 46 bulbs lit, each representing $25, for a total donation so far of $1,150. The goal this year is $3,500.

With some other organizations not participating in Christmas collections this year, the burden is somewhat heavier on the Salvation Army, according to Major Froberg.

POWDER LINE

By Judy Nix

You will forgive my ungracious spirit, dear Santa, if at this festive time of year, I publicly make plea to you who will once again, benignly remember me on your holiday giving list.

Please, dear Santa, harken and save your reindeer. For, this year, I'll be not even slightly offended if you do not stuff my stocking with that lovely pair of avocado-colored stockings that "almost" match by almond green and royal blue suit.

No malice will I bear if, while slithering down my chimney, you should scorch beyond giving, that scalloped slip that is just about 1½" too long for me anyway.

Each year, jolly elf, I have become the trembling recipient of your generous spirit of gifting. I realize, kind Claus, a full 12 months labor lays behind your good gestures. But, this December I truly have no use for that mechanical marvel, the electric wastebasket which gobbles up paper and similar refuse at the astounding rate of four pounds per minute. I'll agree, bearded northsman, its quality defies description — but, I'd still have to empty it.

Santa, I'm not that easily offended by Ann Landers' admonitions as I gather my groceries with rollers in my hair. So please, good friend, if that high powered hairsetter bearing my name should slip from your seligh — don't retrieve it.

Deny me not my present two hour respite at the local beauty spa where baking 'neath the hairdryer, movie magazine in hand, I keep mental pace with the leaders of the Jet Set.

Do not think me an ingrate, oh keeper of elves, if I ask you to overlook entirely my tinseled fir this holiday's eve. I'm older now, great toymaker, and though I have no less faith in your universal bounty, I feel certain the world is full of other women who, more earnestly than myself, desire that instant manicure set or the 37-speed food chopper. Bless THEM, kind king of philanthropists, as they so deservingly rate.

Content me only with your unspoken promise that my new calendar year will have to begin with painstaking alterations, impossible exchanges, and hours of directional study.

—"Virginia"—

CALIFORNIA — Mrs. Emily Lee Williams, was hostess at the monthly meeting at the Bayne group of the First Christian Church C.W.F.

Mrs. Wesley Bayne, chairman, was in charge of the business meeting. Christmas cards are being sent to all serivemen of the church and to shut-ins.

Mrs. Maxine Tilbury gave the program, "How Our Thinking Has Changed." Mrs. Dorthy Howard gave the devotional, "God's Love For Us Unchanging."

Following the program a social hour was enjoyed with the hostess serving a dessert course. A Christmas gift exchange was observed.

Softness is the Key To Holiday Hairstyles

NEW YORK — If the candles on your mantel and the angel that tops the tree are your prettiest Christmas decorations, you'll miss a lot of holiday fun.

The most decorative item in your home during this festive season should be YOU.

There's not a woman worthy of the name who doesn't delight in being the belle of the ball. But unless you're a Sophia Loren, you can't make the grade with a slap-dash approach. It takes imagination and planning to decorate yourself a little differently.

But when your husband does take a double-take, the kids gape in admiration and at your own party the male guests serve YOU, you will know it was worth the effort.

If you don't ordinarily use a high-gloss lipstick, try one for a different look for the holidays. Try a new length of lashes, a special Christmas hairdo — or all three.

Softness is the key to the season's hairstyles. Hair may be upswept or left to fall — but always softly.

"Even with the increasing use of elegance in hairstyling, we are retaining a good deal of the natural look," claims one stylist at a well-known New York salon. "Severity has never been further from the fashion fore."

Updos are woven loosely into loops or curls. Every woman should learn the magic of letting a few wisps or tendrils escape at the sides.

Have a Christmas ball with little colored ornaments meant for the tree — but such perfect decorations for you. Tiny ornaments may accent a curl form a headband or dangle from clips as homemade earrings.

Long hair is romantically right for the party season. Little-girl banana curls, updated, are a favorite among fashion models.

Hairpieces should complement, not cover, your own crowning glory. Some models like to attach a tendril to the side. Others use the fakery to add thickness to their natural style and there are still others who like fake curls only at the nape.

The secret of holiday hair is really the secret of any season — freshly shampooed tresses, the right selection of setting aids, a firm, neat set and a little imagination.

And that means experiment now so that your holiday handicraft won't be left to chance.

Try for star billing as the prettiest Christmas ornament in your home.

A piano prelude, "Joy to the World," played by Mrs. Shelby Kahrs, opened the afternoon session. Miss Laura Kruse distributed charter cards and Mrs. Green announced that "The Clothing to Indonesia" would be mailed by Mrs. Bob McCandless and Mrs. William Ratje.

Mrs. George Meyers extended an invitation to all to attend the Dec. 22 open house from 2-5 p.m. at the parsonage.

Miss Kruse and Mrs. William Sawford were leaders for the afternoon program, "History of Song." Familiar carols were reviewed and sung by the society with accompaniment by Mrs. Millard Wagenknecht. The devotional was given by Mrs. Meyers.

The violin solo, "Winter Wonderland," was played by Mrs. Clarence J. Hiltenburg accompanied by Mrs. Wagenknecht.

Here's News for You, Man!

Here's an item of possible interest to men:

By 1970, half of all the drivers in the United States will be women!

Before you take to the hills, gentlemen, remember that there already are 38 million women behind the wheel, against — and the word is used purely by coincidence — 58 million male drivers.

The number of women drivers has doubled since 1952, due to more suburbs, more two-car families, more unmarried career women and more people, period.

As you might expect, this boom in distaff driving has not gone unnoticed by the people who make and service automobiles.

Auto manufacturers are so convinced the Little Woman often casts the deciding vote in choosing the family car that they are paying closer and closer attention to her preferences in color and styling, and are offering such lady-lures as suspended accelerator pedals (to meet the high heel problem), facial tissue dispensers and "his" and "her" ashtrays.

And service stations are recognizing that premium restrooms are just as important to the ladies as miracle additives in the gasoline are to the men. So fancy powder rooms are replacing bleak cubicles.

Traffic authorities seem to agree that women are driving more safely and more expertly day by day. And most men are accepting the fact that the woman driver is here to stay, even if not in one spot.

There will probably always remain, however, the occasional cynic who insists that when a woman sticks out her hand in traffic to give a signal, it means only one thing — that the window is down.

(That's only a quote, ladies, and does NOT necessarily reflect the views of this newspaper!)

Seven steps to Stagnation that apply to any community were recently emphasized by the Torrington (Wyo.) Chamber of Commerce as follows:

1. We're not ready for that. 2. We've never done it that way before. 3. We're doing all right without it. 4. We tried that once before. 5. It costs too much. 6. That's not our responsibility. 7. It just won't work.

The Wellington, Ohio, Enterprise reports that the other day it received a release from a Washington agency about a 24-year-old unwed woman from Delaware with five children who moved to Pennsylvania. She applied for relief and was told by the Pennsylvania Welfare Department that she must be a resident of that state for a full year before she qualified for relief. This displeased her and she took the matter to court. A three judge court ordered the state to immediately put her on the relief rolls. When the state sought to appeal the decision, the Supreme Court denied the appeal.

Step Up Investigation of Dodd

By DREW PEARSON AND JACK ANDERSON

WASHINGTON — The Justice Department, though dropping its investigation of Adam Clayton Powell last week, definitely hasn't closed the books on Sen. Tom Dodd, D-Conn. Both the FBI and Internal Revenue Service, in fact, have quietly stepped up the investigation of Dodd.

To help prepare his legal defense, the senator has put one of his attorneys on the public payroll. His office acknowledged, in reply to a telephone inquiry, that Walter Kenny is now working full time for the senator. Kenny is one of the lawyers who represented Dodd during the censure hearings.

It was Kenny who telephoned one of the witnesses against Dodd, Mike O'Hare, and threatened to embarrass his girl friend.

"We just want you to know that we have a complete check on her," O'Hare quoted Kenny as saying. "It would be a shame for a lovely girl like her to have her reputation hurt in any way."

Kenny also pressed another former Dodd employee, Glen Cooper, for derogatory information against the four ex-employees who were scheduled to testify against the senator.

"These four are finished," Kenny murmured darkly. "Do you want to be finished, too?"

Insiders say that Kenny is now doing Dodd's legal legwork and helping him to write a book answering the charges against him. Neither assignment has anything to do with the public business.

Thus the employment of Kenny would appear to violate the weak code of ethics which the Senate passed this year — ironically, as a direct result of Dodd's earlier abuses. Under the new code, senators aren't supposed to hire employees at the taxpayers' expense to perform personal services.

Meanwhile, Internal Revenue agents have spent more than a year trying to untangle Dodd's haphazard finances. They have traced his private financial transactions from California to Connecticut to the Bahamas.

FBI agents also have been studying two books, "The Case Against Congress" and "Above the Law," for clues in the Dodd case. Both books charge that Dodd violated federal laws, which the Senate Ethics Committee did't trouble to investigate but merely referred to the Justice Department.

—Who Pays?—

There has been a question from the first over who was paying Dodd's legal expenses. He wound up with one of the world's most high priced law firms — Cahill, Gordon, Reindel and Ohl of New York City — which dispatched a legal task force of seven lawyers to Washington to defend Dodd.

The senator acknowledged in a TV interview that this firm was too expensive for his pocketbook. He explained that the firm had taken his case "as a public service."

When we pointed out that the firm had represented NBC before Dodd's juvenile delinquency subcommittee and that Dodd subsequently spared NBC great embarrassment during his investigation of violence on television, the law firm presented Dodd with a substantial bill. The word was spread, however, that friends would raise money to pay the bill.

Now one of the attorneys, it seems, is being paid by the taxpayers.

—Another Chicago Report—

The House Commerce Committee is preparing a report that will highlight a feature of the Chicago disorders which the controversial Walker Report glosses over — namely, the role of television in stimulating the violence at the Democratic convention.

Daniel Walker's report to the National Commission on the Causes and Prevention of Violence, while portraying the Chicago violence as a "police riot," also acknowledges:

"There is no question that the protesters in Chicago, as elsewhere, 'played to the cameras' or that they often did it very effectively, and this, too, had been learned in earlier protests.

"What the 'whole world was watching,' after all, was not a confrontation but the picture of a confrontation, to some extent directed by a generation that had grown up with television and learned to use it. . .

"Camera crews on at least two occasions did stage violence and fake injuries. Demonstrators did sometimes step up their activities for the benefit of TV cameras."

The House investigators will go beyond this. They will cite evidence that TV crews both staged and stimulated violence; also that they deliberately focused on trouble that would embarrass the Democrats. Here are some of their conclusions:

1. The TV crews were pushed around by the Republicans in Miami Beach. They were sore at the Democrats for choosing Chicago as their convention site, thus forcing a troublesome $3 million move from Miami Beach to Chicago. A telephone and taxi strike in Chicago further aggravated the TV men. Result: They arrived for the Democratic convention already angry.

2. Mayor Richard Daley and his bellicose police pushed newsmen around. They physically assaulted 63 newsmen and cameramen. This infuriated the newsmen, who became openly anti-Chicago, anti-police and anti-Democrat.

3. Word was passed down to the TV crews to play up the dissidents and demonstrators to show Daley and the Democrats in the worst possible light. The House investigators say that written instructions weren't necessary, that TV men became aware of the attitude of their networks often without overt instructions at all. The worst bias, the investigators will charge, was shown by CBS.

The TV handling of the Democratic convention, in the opinion of many Democrats, was chiefly responsible for Hubert Humphrey's defeat.

Taxpayers Ask IRS

Q — Our apartment was rifled by burglars while we were away on vacation. Since we do not have insurance, can we deduct our losses for tax purposes?

A — Yes, a deduction for a theft can be taken on your return. However, only the loss in excess of $100 can be deducted.

To establish a theft loss you must be able to: (1) show the date the theft was discovered; (2) show the property was stolen and not lost or mislaid; (3) establish ownership; (4) show evidence of the cost or other basis of the property; (5) show any amount taken or allowable for depreciation; and (6) show the amount of insurance or other compensation for the loss received or recoverable.

Apollo Sets Space Pace; 1970-80 Plans Needed

By RAY CROMLEY
NEA Washington Correspondent

WASHINGTON (NEA)

Something very wonderful has happened in the U.S. moon program.

Suddenly there is a new wave of confidence, after more than a year and a half of self-criticism, uncertainty and caution following the January, 1967, Apollo fire in which three astronauts lost their lives.

Some knowledgeable National Aeronautics and Space Administration scientists now privately estimate that this month's Apollo moon-circling mission has an 85 to 90 per cent chance of success—a rating that is very high indeed.

For cautious physicists, this estimate indicates a height of morale more frequently seen in the U.S. Marine Corps.

There is a feeling that the problems have been met and solved, the solutions checked and rechecked to perfection.

This confidence is leading to what insiders call a new drive in the big space organization, from top to bottom. When men begin to have strong confidence in their program, especially after a long period of nagging doubts, the work goes more smoothly; things speed up; the astronauts, engineers and managers frequently catch possible bugs before they show up in tests or breakdowns.

This all adds to the probability of success.

At this writing, it is not yet known whether the Russians will attempt a go at a manned circling of the moon before the U.S. take-off, now scheduled for Dec. 21 (with a moon circling on Christmas). But at this stage of the game, the schedule set and no speedup possible, what the Russians do in this particular month doesn't enter into the picture.

What's needed now is the imagination in the new administration to develop a space program for the coming decade that will hold together the best of the scientific-engineering-planning team which has developed Apollo, and which is beginning to break up as individual Apollo projects are completed.

Post-Apollo programs have been cut to the bone.

The cutbacks have been made in the name of economy. But evidence is now coming in that the materials, gadgets, equipment and techniques learned in the space projects are worth potential billions in economic savings in communications, medicine, weather forecasting, flood control, prospecting, mapping and a score of other fields.

The new space knowledge, of course, will most certainly be of incalculable value in the development of future military space vehicles and weaponry.

The Russians have realized the potential of these economic, medical and military prospects and today, with roughly half the U.S. gross national product, their annual space budget is believed greater than ours.

The so-called fragment bid in one form or another should be used by every expert partnership.

Basically, the fragment bid shows a singleton in the bid suit or possibly even in some other suit and at the same time confirms strong support for partner.

North's four-club call is an example. He has tremendous heart support and visualizes a slam if South can take care of diamonds.

South has a frightful vulnerable heart overcall and the fact that his partner has a singleton club does not interest him in a slam but the essence of good partnership is to assume partner will know everything that is going on. Therefore, South does bid four diamonds over his partner's four clubs to show first-round diamond control.

North's four no-trump is plain, old-fashioned, unvarnished Blackwood and South's five diamonds reveals one ace outside the diamond suit. Because he has already shown first-round diamond control, he would have bid five clubs had his only ace been in diamonds.

North proceeds to bid six hearts and, while South has some minor problems finding the safest way to play the heart slam, everything works nicely and he makes it.

When this hand was played in the trials, we regret to report that not one of the five North-South pairs reached the slam. Only one of them was playing this particular fragment bid and when North bid four clubs, South decided that his overcall was so weak and his king of clubs obviously so useless that South merely bid four hearts and played it there.

We believe that the 1969 team will adopt the fragment bid for the World's Championship matches and, if a hand similar to this comes up, our team will reach the slam.

WHY CHRISTMAS ALMOST WASN'T

By Jack Kent

BETTY CANARY

Rod, Ma, Don't Spare It!

Often and copiously have I written about little children and the indignities they must suffer from adults.

Remember that I have questioned the morals and mental facilities of adults who would scold, slap and humiliate the small ones.

However, if you will just wait until I have washed the mayonnaise from my hair, sent my coat to the cleaners and taken a couple of aspirin tablets, I'd like to state that I'm not in favor of adults being THEIR victims either.

I am not saying it was the little girl's fault when she smeared her hamburger in my hair, but I know she deliberately speared me with her straw. That was after she blew the paper straw envelope into my coffee, of course.

I just wish her mother would teach the child some manners or, preferably, keep her at home in a nice, dry crate.

I had lots of errands and I was in a hurry, so that's why I stopped at the coffee shop for a sandwich. I don't know why the mother and daughter had stopped there. Possibly it was because the child had wrecked their kitchen at home.

I sat in the booth behind them and ordered my sandwich, accompanied by the thudding of child against leatherette. "Don't do that, Mary Ruth," the mother said sweetly.

The thudding stopped and a thick, wet plop on the back of my head told me Mary Ruth was now standing behind me eating a hamburger.

I moved to the other side of my table and smiled tolerantly.

Mary Ruth leaned over the booth and blew her straw cover into my coffee.

"Mary Ruth!" her mother said.

"I'm sure it was an accident," I lied.

Mary Ruth joined me in my booth. "She's just the friendliest thing," her mother cooed.

"Isn't she?" I answered, holding my sandwich out of reach. "Go back and drink your milk shake, Mary Ruth," I hissed kindly.

She stabbed me in the eye with her straw and turned over my coffee cup.

"Mary Ruth!" her mother said.

"It needed cleaning anyway," I said, swabbing at my coat. "You'd better sit down, dear," I said to Mary Ruth. "Santa's elves might be watching!"

Mary Ruth started to cry.

"Honestly," her mother said, "scaring a baby! I simply don't understand some people!"

THE DOCTOR SAYS

Open Heart Captures Meaning of Christmas

By WAYNE G. BRANDSTADT, M.D.

Ever since the world began, the young have sought, not very successfully, I fear, to change it — to rid it of hypocrisy, bigotry and conflict. In an agony of frustration, many of the youths of today have become "flower children." Their watchword is Love. The Christmas season is certainly the time to give some substance to the universal need for love and never was this need greater than in fast-fading 1968.

This love must, however, be more than tolerance or an absence of hate. It must be a desire to be of service to others, born of understanding and compassion. It must not be an artificial "turning on" with "mind-expanding" drugs that temporarily blot out reality and often have harmful effects both on the user and, later, on his offspring. If we are to capture the true meaning of Christmas, we must do so with an unclouded mind and an open heart.

Q — The doctors tell my mother, 66, she is too old to have her tonsils out. She has frequent sore throats and spits up curdlike lumps from her tonsils. What do you advise?

A — Most enlarged tonsils have deep crypts in which cheesy material, made up of bacteria and dead cells from the lining of crypts, form. No one is too old to have his tonsils out but, unless your mother's tonsils are definitely infected or interfere with her swallowing, there is no reason why they should come out. As strategically placed lymph nodes, they perform a useful function in preventing local infections in the head and neck from getting into the blood stream. Removal of the tonsils will not of itself prevent subsequent sore throats.

Q — How long can one use iodine in the treatment of goiter without injury to other organs?

A — It may be used indefinitely if the dosage is carefully adjusted to your needs.

Turn on the Lights

President-elect Richard Nixon has promised that he will turn on the lights at the White House when he takes possession. President Johnson moved in under a period of mourning and the historic residence was draped in black. He kept the lights out later as an economy measure. The tourists and even the District residents resented this, and the money saved was probably insignificant as compared with other national expenses.

As a point of interest, according to a 1964 Washington Star report, the electric bill was reduced by approximately $2,000. we can only assume that this was because of discontinuance of the flood lights around the White House grounds. This would mean a total of $10,000 for five years.

The White House belongs to the American people and they have a right to see it glowing in the dark. Turning on the lights is a campaign promise Mr. Nixon should keep.

In this ceremony, Mrs. Alta Reed sang "God Who Touches Earth With Beauty."

Mrs. Emory and Mr. Sprinkle were honored by a special ceremony by the newly installed officers, using daisies and gladioli on two five-spoke wheels. This ceremony was narrated by Mrs. Gordon Spears.

Baltimore, Dallas Place Four On All-Star Team

NEW YORK (AP) — Green Bay's domination of the National Football League All-Star honors ended in 1968 when Baltimore and Dallas each placed four players on the 22-man offensive and defensive units picked for The Associated Press by a 48-man committee of sports writers and sportscasters, three from each league city.

Earl Morrall, who has been everybody's back-up quarterback for years, finally moved front and center as the All-Star quarterback with the Baltimore Colts. He replaced John Unitas, the 1967 All-Star who gave way to Morrall at Baltimore this year because of a tennis elbow.

The starting backfield consisted of Morrall and the fleet running back combination of Leroy Kelly of Cleveland, the two-time rushing champion, and Gale Sayers of Chicago, despite the knee injury that put him out of action for the season Nov. 10.

Clifton McNeil, the speedy receiver who was acquired by San Francisco from Cleveland just before the season started, was named the flanker on the basis of his league-leading 71 pass catches.

Bob Hayes of Dal...s was the split end and John Mackey, Baltimore's solid citizen, was the tight end.

The five-man offensive line was manned by Mick Tingelhoff of Minnesota at center, Gene Hickerson of Cleveland and Howie Mudd of San Francisco at the guard posts and Ralph Neely of Dallas and Bob Brown of Philadelphia at the tackle jobs.

Los Angeles had three starters on the defensive team, including Deacon Jones, the perennial all-league end, and Merlin Olsen, his running mate at tackle. Eddie Meadow at safety was the third Ram to make the club.

Carl Eller of Minnesota was Jones' partner at defensive end and Bob Lilly of Dallas again teamed with Olsen as the defensive tackles.

Bobby Boyd of Baltimore and Lem Barney of Detroit won the corner back jobs and Larry Wilson of St. Louis, still as good as ever, was back again at safety to team with Meadow.

Twelve of the 22 players will be in action this weekend in the Saturday-Sunday conference playoffs with Dallas and Baltimore each having four and Cleveland and Minnesota each two. The Cowboys will be at Cleveland Saturday for the Eastern Conference title and the Vikings at Baltimore Sunday for the Western crown.

Only 10 repeated from last year's team. They were Mackey, Neeley, Hickerson, Sayers and Kelly on offense and Jones, Olsen, Lilly, Howley and Wilson on defense.

Ten of the 16 teams placed men on the first team and, for the first time in recent memory, there were no Packers although Jerry Kramer, guard, Willie Wood, safety, and Robinson, linebacker, all were on the second team.

Kelly was the top vote getter with 45 of a possible 48. He wound up with a career high of 1,239 yards, a 5.0 yard average and 20 touchdowns, 16 on runs and four on pass receptions.

Morrall was picked as quarterback by a landslide, with only Bill Nelsen of Cleveland, Don Meredith of Dallas, Bart Starr of Green Bay and Fran Tarkenton of New York getting any other votes.

In the competition for corner linebacker jobs, Howley had 20 votes, Curtis 17 and Robinson 14.

Smithton Trounces Pilot Grove

Smithton trounced Pilot Grove 71 to 39 in a non-conference bout at Smithton Tuesday night giving them an 8-2 record for the season. Smithton is 3-0 in conference play.

Schupp and Fenical each scored 10 points to lead Pilot Grove's B team to victory 39 to 36. McCutchin took high point honors for Smithton with 15.

Smithton will play Bunceton Friday night at Smithton.

Score by Quarters:

Smithton	12	17	23	19	—71

Roadrunners Meet WAFB Missilers On Thursday

St. Paul's Cardinals of Concordia gave the State Fair Community College Roadrunners a tremendous run for their money last Monday night, and the Sedalians could be headed for something similar this Thursday when they go against the Whiteman AFB Missiliers in a road game.

Sedalia and Whiteman have met before — on the Roadrunners' home court, with Sedalia hauling off an uncomfortably close 56-52 victory.

The thing that has Sedalia Coach Fred Wehking worried is that this time the Roadrunners will meet the Missiliers in unfamiliar territory.

When the two teams met the first time, Whiteman's Joe Meachem, a 6-4 forward, hit the backboards for 16 points. Meachem is only a little smaller than Sedalia's big man, Don Cooke, who stand 6-8.

Backing up Meachem's effort for the airmen was Jim Frey, a 6-4½ center who scored 12 points.

According to the Sedalia coach, Whiteman has some good talent and "they could be tough, especially since we're meeting them on their court."

Sedalia is taking a perfect and somewhat startling 6-0 record against Whiteman. The fact that some of those games have been won by unusually close margins doesn't lend much comfort to Wehking.

Although taking a pessimistic outlook on most of his games, Wehking's team has shown a remarkable talent for turning pessimism to optimism.

Still without conference affiliation, the Roadrunners, in training only a little over three months as a team, have shown an unexpected drive and desire to win.

They could easily be rated as one of the top freshman teams in Mid-Missouri — but a lot of games remain ahead and Thursday's is as important as any of them. Game time is 7 p.m.

California Defeats Smith-Cotton Team

In a battle of the boards Tuesday night, the Smith-Cotton Tiger varsity cagers went down to defeat at the hands of the California Pintos 69 to 54. The contest was played on the Pinto home court.

Actually, the game was much closer than the score indicated in view of the fact that with only five minutes to go, the Tigers were only three points behind, 50-47. Throughout the evening, the Pintos would pull out in the lead by eight or nine points, only to have the Bengals edge up and almost overtake them.

According to head black and gold Paul Schwartz, "The Tigers played hard and well, but the Pintos outshot us and they beat us on board rebounds. California shot particularly well from the outside, while we missed a number of easy shots. To top it off, in the last quarter at a crucial time, Skip Tornquist fouled out and we lost very important board strength."

High point men for the Tigers were Bill Woolery, 10 points; Jim Lewis, 10 points; and Dave Nash, 10 points. Pinto high pointers included Allen Meyer, 18 points; Seth Hackney, 14 points; and Dennis Althoff, 14 points.

The Bengals travel to Springfield Parkview this Friday night where the two "B" squads will tangle at 6:30 p.m., followed by the varsity contest.

The Tiger "B" team defeated the Pintos Tuesday night 32 to 18.

Calhoun Team Squeezes By Ballard Five

MONTROSE — Calhoun squeezed by Ballard Monday night in the Montrose Tournament, 55-54. Their big gun was Avery with 26 points. Ballard's high man was Radford with 22. Calhoun's attack was bolstered by the rebounding of Edwards who pulled down 16. Calhoun will play Montrose Tuesday night.

This victory brought Calhoun's record for the season to 7-4, while the loss brought Ballard's record to 8-3.

Score by quarter:

Calhoun	12	20	10	13	—55
Ballard	20	9	10	15	—54

Individual scoring: Calhoun—Micke, 2; Devereh, 15; Edwards, 6; Avery, 26; Curry, 6; Ballard—Umstahd, 3; Compton, 13; Harris, 15; Radford, 22; Scott, 1.

Knicks On Mark, Top Warriors

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Things are coming up roses for the New York Knickerbockers—at least in their own Garden.

The Knicks reached the .500 mark at 17-17 Tuesday night by topping the San Francisco Warriors 114-99 for their eighth straight at Madison Square Garden. Twelve of the victories have come at home.

In other National Basketball Association action Tuesday night, Atlanta edged Chicago 87-83, Philadelphia outlasted Phoenix 145-125 and Los Angeles nipped Cincinnati 112-108.

Minnesota edged Indianapolis 111-109 and Oakland turned back Kentucky 118-111 in the American Basketball Association.

Walt Fraizer and Bill Bradley sparked the Knicks' victory over San Francisco, which played without Nate Thurmond and Clyde Lee, who are injured.

After the Warriors scored eight straight points in the final period to go ahead, 90-87, for the first time since the opening quarter, Frazier and Bradley brought the Knicks back.

Frazier scored a field goal and Bradley followed with another to give New York a 91-90 lead with about 5½ minutes left. Then after Rudy LaRusso put the Warriors in front 92-91, Frazier hit a two straight three-point plays, and the rout was on.

Frazier finished with 15 points, 10 in the fourth quarter, and Bradley scored 20 and pulled down a game-high 14 rebounds.

Walt Bellamy led New York scoring with 24 points, and Dick Barnett added 21. LaRusso topped San Francisco with 28 points.

Two driving layups by Zelmo Beaty in the final minute led Atlanta to its fifth straight victory. Beaty finished with 20 points, while Bob Boozer scored 21 for Chicago.

Philadelphia, which hit eight of its first 10 field goal attempts, built up a 29-13 lead in the first six minutes and Phoenix was never able to get closer than 10.

Billy Cunningham scored 32 points and Hal Greer 27 for the winners. Gary Gregor led Phoenix with 20.

After the game, Phoenix announced it had traded McCoy McLemore to Detroit for Jim Fox and a draft choice.

Jerry West scored 36 points including 17 in the third period as Los Angeles won its 22nd game in 32 starts at the expense of Cincinnati. Oscar Robertson's 28 points were high for the Royals, whose late rally fell short.

After Cincinnati overcame an early deficit to move ahead 49-47 at halftime, the Lakers, behind West, took command 89-70 at the end of the third quarter.

Recognition, Awards For KC Chiefs

KANSAS CITY (AP)—Recognition and awards were bestowed Tuesday on several members of the Kansas City Chiefs, co-leaders in the western division of the American Football League with Oakland.

Aaron Brown was chosen the AFL defensive player of the week by the Associated Press and eight of his teammates were selected for the western division all-star squad in the AFL All-Star game in Jacksonville, Fla. Jan. 19.

Nine players from Oakland, the Chiefs' opponent in the division playoff game Sunday, were named to the all-star squad.

Chiefs defensive players on the all-star squad are Bobby Bell and Jim Lynch, linebackers; tackle Buck Buchanan; end Jerry Mays and safety John Robinson. Tackle Jim Tyrer and Guard Ed Budde were selected from the offensive team along with kicking specialist Jan Stenerud.

Lynch and Stenerud were picked for the first time. All the others had been named before with Bell being selected for the fifth time in six years in the league.

In his second season with the Chiefs, Stenerud led the team in scoring with 129 points, second only to New York's Jim Turner who had 145.

Stenerud converted 39 of 40 extra point attempts and was successful on 30 of 40 field goal tries.

Otterville Takes Eagles Second Time

Leading all the way, the Otterville Eagles whipped Lincoln for the second time this season at Lincoln Tuesday night 85-80.

The Eagles jumped off to a two-point first quarter lead and stretched it to seven points at the half. A six-point third quarter margin protected them against a Lincoln uprising in the fourth quarter.

J.D. Ehlers had 36 points to lead the Eagles in the non-conference game. All four scorers for Otterville hit for double figures. McCain led Lincoln with 22 points.

The win was the sixth for the Eagles against six losses. Playing in the rough Cooper County Athletic Association, their conference record is 2-4.

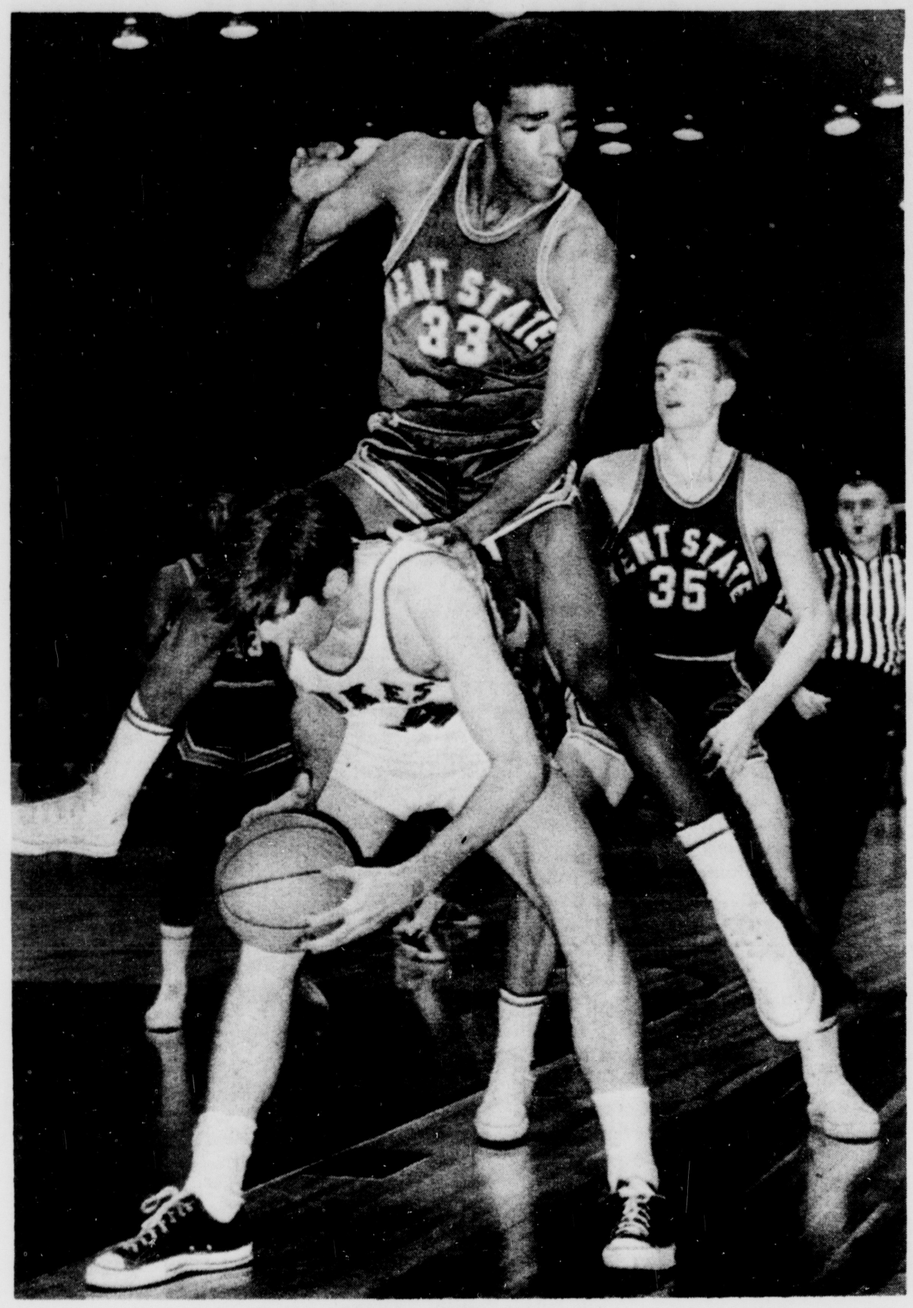

Lincoln's B team salvaged their match, winning 41-33. Bishop was high man for Lincoln with 12 points; Landreth had 18 for Otterville to cop game scoring honors.

The Eagles' next game will be Friday at home against Pilot Grove, in a CCAA game.

Score by Quarters:

Otterville	20	24	24	17	—85
Lincoln	18	19	18	25	—80

Individual scoring: Otterville — Don Gerke, 18; Bob Hardey, 11; George Marcum, 20; J.D. Ehlers, 36; Lincoln — Eken, 18; McCain, 22; Hansen, 7; Stevens, 12; Rigby, 19; Bishop, 2.

Baseball Year Apt To Get Hotter On Note's Arrival

NEW YORK (AP) — Baseball's long, cold winter is heating up and things promise to get even hotter when players start opening their holiday mail and read a little note Marvin Miller has sent them.

Miller, executive director of the Major League Baseball Players Association, included the note with his recommendations for turning down a million dollar pension proposal offered by baseball's owners. The words Miller uses to describe the offer run the gamut from "inadequate," to "outrageous," to "fraudulent."

The million dollar offer would increase the owners' contribution to the pension plan to $5.1 million annually. The plan was presented by the Players Relations Committee which includes Joe Cronin, president of the American League and Warren Giles, president of the National League.

Milier said he had met with the committee and that the offer fell far short of what the players feel is justified.

"This is their first proposal," said Miller, "and it is inadequate and outrageous. Near the end of the meeting they gave us a press release. The written statement is as fraudulent as anything I have seen."

What angered Miller was the owners' contention that the million dollar offer would substantially increase the pension pool.

"It pretends," Miller said, referring to the owners' press release, "that they have made an offer which will permit a substantial increase in the pension benefits for the players. The offer actually will permit no increase in benefits to the players whatsoever.

"Major league expansion plus the owners insisting on paying off the unfunded liability of the pension plan at a faster rate than ever before would reach the $5.1 million total they propose."

The players also want a bigger cut of the $16½ million television contract baseball recently negotiated with the networks and they have threatened not to sign their 1969 contracts unless the owners agree to up the contribution from broadcast income.

But the owners emphasized that their Tuesday offer had nothing to do with revenue from television and radio.

"The pension fund was always financed by radio and TV revenue," Miller said. "Now, for the first time, they want to divorce television revenue and the pension fund."

Miller said the offer would be sent to each player along with his recommendation to refuse it and a ballot with which to vote.

POLLY'S POINTERS

It's All in the Way Spray Starch Is Used

By POLLY CRAMER

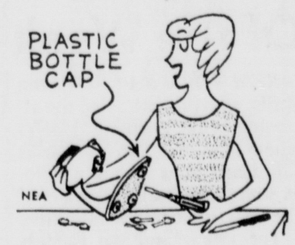

DEAR POLLY—Creasy wanted to know how one can use an entire can of spray starch. I work in a research and development laboratory and our chemists suggest the following: 1. The nozzle of the can is clogged. If it is removed, held under hot water and the hole is cleared with a straight pin, the can will spray. 2. When spraying be sure to hold the can upright and not at too much of an angle. This causes the loss of propellent (gas), thus it is all used up but only half of the starch is used. 3. Be sure to shake the can each time before using.—AMERICAN CAN EMPLOYE

DEAR GIRLS—At times we are all in such a hurry that we fail to read the directions given on cans, etc., and would save more time in the end if we did. Most of the above is given on spray starch cans. Mrs. W.J.C. says, "It is aimost impossible to spray something that is laying on the ironing board without tilting the can. I hold the garment up with my left hand and operate the spray can with my right hand. If a spot or two needs extra starch, let the garment hang over the edge of the board and spray right at it."—POLLY

Polly's Problem

DEAR POLLY—Each of my four daughters has quite a collection of stuffed animals that look so messy spread all over their rooms. Have any of you found an attractive way to display them and still keep a semblance of neatness?—ANNE.

DEAR POLLY—My electric mixer is on a stand and the rubber disks that were on the bottom of the base rotted away and fell off. I bought a package of plastic soda bottle caps, trimmed off the part that goes over the neck of the bottle, punctured a small hole just big enough to get a screw started, placed the caps and tightened them into place with screws. Be sure to attach from the inner side of the bottle caps so the screws are underneath. Now my mixer is easily moved without marring the counter top. —ALICE Y.

No Rush To Bump Heads With Dallas

NEW YORK (AP) — The Cleveland Browns might be anxious to tackle Dallas Saturday, but they're probably in no rush to bump heads with the Cowboys' Doomsday Defense.

Dallas, which meets Cleveland for the National Football League's Eastern Conference crown, was the circuit's No. 4 defensive club during the regular season . . . and the toughest of all to run against.

The Cowboys yielded an average of 85.3 rushing yards per start in 14 games. And they were scored upon just two times on the ground all season . . . once more than the all-time record set by the 1927 New York Giants in a 13 game schedule.

The Doomsday gang, led by towering Bob Lilly and George Andrie, also nailed opposing passers more times, 51, than any other club.

The Baltimore Colts, who take on Minnesota for the Western Conference title Sunday, were second in total defense to Los Angeles and tops in the league in keeping opponents off the scoreboard.

Baltimore allowed 144 points, matching Chicago s 14 - game mark set five years ago. The Colts gave up 16 touchdowns, nine of them by passing, to lead in both departments.

Offensively, the Cowboys' 365.5 yards-per-game average led the league, with Cleveland's 349.2 per-game clip second best. Dallas set the pace with 431 points scored — fourth highest total in NFL history.

New Head Coach At San Jose State

SAN JOSE, Calif. (AP) — Joseph H. McMullen, who has a reputation for building potent football offenses, will take over as head coach at San Jose State next year. But his main problems may be off the field.

McMullen, assistant coach at Penn State since 1960, was named to the job Tuesday by Athletic Director Bob Bronzan.

Richer By Fluke

SYDNEY, Australia (AP) — Andrew Cowan, a 32-year-old Scottish farmer, was $24,000 richer today apparently because Paddy Hopkirk of Ireland drove back four miles to make sure an injured auto racer was being looked after.

Cowan was declared the official winner late Tuesday night in the 10,700-mile London-to-Sydney car marathon which began Nov. 24.

He took home the $24,000 first prize after three of the top competitors were eliminated by accidents and mechanical trouble. Hopkirk finished second and pocketed $7,210. Ian Vaughan of Australia won $4,800 for third place.

Casper Honored

RANCHO LA COSTA, Calif. (AP) — Official or otherwise, Billy Casper was honored Wednesday by golf writers as the 1968 Professional Golfer of the Year.

In the now-concluded war between the Professional Golfers Association and the American Professional Golfers, the annual all - pro selection was overlooked.

A poll of writers, however, rectified the omission. The choice posed no problem. The Californian won six PGA tournaments and led in money-winning with $205,168.

Ashe Might Spurn Huge Tennis Offer

ADELAIDE, Australia (AP) — If Arthur Ashe listens to his pop—and he always has—he will spurn a $500,000 offer to go on a pro tennis tour and dedicate himself to helping black people find their place in American society.

"You can build your castle too high," Arthur Ashe Sr., father of the world's greatest amateur tennis player, said today. "It's nice to be rich and famous, but there is more to life than that.

"Our kids in the ghettos need a lot of help. I would like to see Arthur, who can be an inspiration, do his part. I think that is what Arthur wants, too."

The elder Ashe was flown to Adelaide—through funds collected by friends in Richmond, Va., where he is a park patrolman—to watch his son lead the U.S. Davis Cup team against Australia in the Challenge Round starting the day after Christmas.

Because of Ashe, holder of the U.S. Amateur and Open titles, the Americans are heavily favored to win the trophy they have been able to take only three times in the last 18 years.

Ashe, who gets out of the Army in February, has been the object of spirited bidding by pro groups, with one offer said to amount to $100,000 a year for five years.

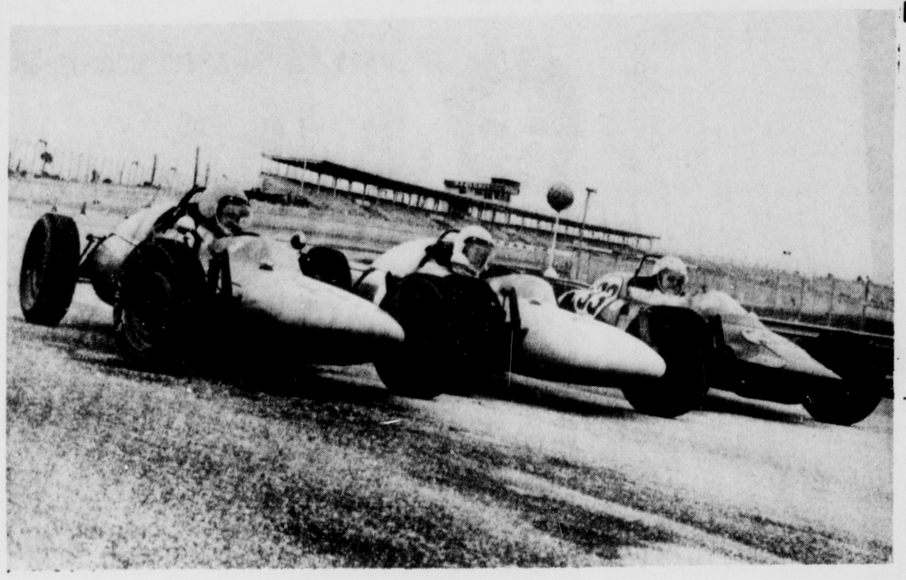

To make this purse, however, he would be subject to playing one - night stands on tour in head-to-head competition with other pros.

Ashe has said he will be playing tennis for money next year. If the U.S. Lawn Tennis Association follows England's lead to permit players to accept prize money without turning pro he is almost certain to turn his back on rich pro offers.

Track, Field Joins Sports On TV

Name Wells Offensive Of the Week

NEW YORK (AP) — Warren Wells, who first attracted the attention of the Oakland Raiders when they saw him in Kansas City Chief films, is now a Raider who this week is the object of the Chiefs' cinematic attention.

The Chiefs and the Raiders meet for the American Football League's Western Division title Sunday, and one of Kansas City's main concerns has to be Wells, a split end whose 53 pass catches and 12 touchdowns have helped put Oakland where it is.

His four catches, for 113 yards and one touchdown, helped the Raiders beat stubborn San Diego last Sunday and today brought him The Associated Press' designation as AFL offensive player of the week.

It is ironic that the Chiefs should be studying ways to stop Wells in Sunday's game. They had him for a while last year but released him in their final cut. However, he played for them long enough to get a supporting role in their game films.

"We were studying Kansas City films," explained Al Davis, the Raiders' managing general partner, "and all of a sudden I thought I was seeing things. I knew the Chiefs played Otis Taylor on the left, but here he was running on the right. At least I thought it was Taylor.

"Of course, it turned out that it was Wells. But he looked just like Taylor. They run very similarly, and they're built pretty much alike."

So as soon as Davis saw the Chiefs had put the 6-foot-1, 190-pounder on waivers, he grabbed him. Wells caught just 13 passes last year, mostly playing behind Bill Miller. But this year he developed as fast as he runs.

"He brought an entire new dimension to our attack," Coach John Rauch said. "Everybody used to fault us because we didn't have the bomb, but Warren took care of that very nicely."

So nicely, in fact, that his 12 touchdowns, one of which came on an end-around play, were the most in the AFL this season. His 53 pass catches placed him sixth, but no one caught more TD tosses and his average gain of 21.5 yards per reception was second only to New York's Don Maynard.

How did he develop so rapidly in one season?

Well, for one thing, he hasn't been dropping passes this year as he did last.

For another, Wells explained, "I also had the bad habit of looking away from the ball before I caught it to see where I could go. This season Fred Biletnikoff worked hard with me at training camp, and I finally added the concentration that has paid off."

The touchdown pass he caught against San Diego went for 55 yards and was one of three thrown by quarterback Daryle Lamonica, who completed 18 of 39 passes for 275 yards. Lamonica also gained 41 yards on the ground in five tries.

Other stand out performances last weekend were turned in by Bake Turner of New York, who caught seven passes for 157 yards; Otis Taylor, who grabbed three for 119 yards and one score, and Hoyle Granger of Houston, who ran for 104 yards in 18 carries.

St. Louis Team Downs Wichita State Cagers

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

St. Louis held off a late drive to defeat Wichita State University 99-89 in a Missouri Valley Conference basketball game Tuesday night. North Texas State easily downed Denver University 94-76 in a nonconference game.

St. Louis saw a 23-point lead melt to two with less than three minutes to go before the Billikens moved out to the final 10-point lead.

Wichita's Ron Washington, Jack Matthews and Greg Carney led the Shocker comeback, scoring a total of 39 points in the last 10 minutes.

It was St. Louis' first conference game and gave the Billikens a 2-5 record for the season. Wichita State is now 0-2 in the conference and 1-5 overall.

North Texas' Joe Hamilton scored 22 of his 35 points in the last 20 minutes to lead the Eagles to their seventh victory without a defeat this season.

Denver led 46-42 at halftime but North Texas started running and went ahead for good 72-69 with 7:01 left in the game.

Tonight Memphis State travels to Louisville for a conference game and Cincinnati is at California for a non-league contest.

Foul Play Leaves Pacer Team Dead

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Minnesota's foul play left the Indiana Pacers for dead Monday night.

The Pipers secured a 111-109 American Basketball Association victory when Steve Vacendak fouled Indiana's Freddie Lewis as the Pacers tried to take the ball out of bounds at midcourt with six seconds to play.

Since the bonus rule wasn't in effect and the Pacers trailed by two points, Lewis purposely blew his one free throw. But his shot failed to reach the rim and Minnesota got the ball.

In the only other ABA action, Oakland overcame Kentucky 118-111.

In the NBA, Los Angeles edged Cincinnati 112-108, Philadelphia trounced Phoenix 145-128, New York drubbed San Francisco 114-99 and Atlanta won from Chicago 87-83.

Minnesota's Tom Washington and Indiana's Roger Brown led the scorers in their game with 25 points apiece. The Pipers played without Connie Hawkins, out with an arm injury, and flu-ridden Chico Vaugh. Indiana's Mel Daniels also missed the game with the flu.

Rick Barry stretched his free throw streak to 27 by going 13-for-13 from the foul line in Oakland's triumph over Kentucky. The Oaks' sharpshooter wound up with a game-high 31 points and Warren Armstrong added 22 as Oakland won its fourth in a row.

The Colonels forged to a 28-21 lead in the first period but the Oaks assumed a 62-58 halftime edge and maintained the advantage after the intermission.

Darel Carrier and Lou Dampier kept Kentucky in contention with 18 points apiece.

To Double Purse

WATKINS GLEN, N.Y. (AP)- the U.S. Grand Prix will double its purse offering to $206,000—with a $50,000 first prize—in 1969, making it second only to the Indianapolis 500 in auto racing's financial rating.

The director of the Watkins Glen Grand Prix Corp., Cameron R. Argetsinger, said the event for Formula One cars next Oct. 5 would offer prizes ranging from $50,000 for the winner. Last year's winner got $20,000 to $6,000 for the last-place starter.

Hunger Forces Three Escapees to Return

JOPLIN, Mo. (AP)—The hunger of three men who escaped from Newton County jail at Neosho Monday night led to their arrest Tuesday night.

Deputy sheriff Robert Woodcock arrested John Gripe, 21, Anderson, Mo., in a restaurant about three miles southeast of Joplin as he waited for food he had ordered to take out.

Deputies and highway patrolmen nabbed Ted Barnes, 28, Pineville, Mo., and Zachery Thompson, 20, Joplin, in heavy brush nearby.

Shinners Was Shocked When Selected by NEA

John Shinners

CINCINNATI — (NEA) — John Shinners was sitting in class when someone tapped him on the shoulder and told him he was wanted in the office of Xavier University's president.

"I wondered what was happening," says Shinners. "When I got there, Coach (Ed) Biles was waiting for me, along with Athletic Director (Jim) McCafferty and Father (Paul) O'Connor, the president."

They had assembled to inform Shinners he had just been named to NEA's All-American first team, the first Xavier footballer ever to achieve that honor.

"I nearly fell over," says Shinners.

Coach Biles says his senior guard deserved the honor. "John is the finest offensive lineman Xavier has had in my 13 years here. I'm certainly happy to see a boy selected to an All-American team on his merit, as is obviously the case here."

The Rev. O'Connor, Xavier president, said: "We are extremely proud that NEA has chosen John on its first team. He's not only a standout football player and a good student, but he has character and integrity. Xavier is proud of him."

Shinners, who is sports director of the campus radio station and does the play-by-play of Xavier basketball games, wants to play pro football, but has no preferrnce as to which team—"I don't have much choice anyway."

He wants to be a newspaperman after his football career is over. His father is publisher of two weekly papers in Wisconsin.

Hot Air Blowing

CLEVELAND (AP) — There's a lot of hot air blowing around Municipal Stadium.

Hopefully, most of it will stay under the tarpaulin and put the field in playing condition for the National Football League's Eastern Conference playoff Saturday between Cleveland and Dallas.

Stadium groundskeeper Marshall Bossard says the field is frozen two or three inches deep and he plans to leave special heaters on full blast 24 hours a day until 11 a.m. Saturday.

Device Can Locate Enemy in the Night

By FRED S. HOFFMAN
AP Military Writer

WASHINGTON (AP) — A device used to pinpoint enemy snipers during night fighting in Vietnam has been added to the weapons provided the National Guard for possible use against rioters in the United States.

One hundred of the devices, called Starlight Scopes, are being stockpiled at key depots for use by state National Guard chiefs, if needed.

Sources said the scopes probably would be brought into play against snipers firing on guardsmen or police from the darkness during night civil disorders.

The National Guard Bureau has notified adjutant generals that the Starlight Scopes will be earmarked for them in depots at Tobyhanna, Pa., Lexington, Ky., and Sacramento, Calif.

Provision of the scopes is the latest actions taken by the Army to prepare the National Guard, police and its own forces for possible widespread civil disturbances in the United States.

These preparations intensified starting last spring when riots broke out in many cities after the assassination of Dr. Martin Luther King Jr.

Among other things, the Army has given the National Guard infra-red search lights, standard flood lights, radios, public address systems, grenade launchers, shotguns and portable riot gas despensers.

The Army has claimed outstanding sucesses for the Starlight Scope in South Vietnam to detect enemy guerrilla fighters for more than 400 yards.

The device, which is handheld or mounted on rifles and machine guns, amplifies the glow of the moon or stars, enabling its operator to see objects that otherwise would be blacked out.

National Guard sources said another new aid for antiriot forces has been the preparation by the Army Map Service of special maps of 115 cities considered potential locales for future civil disturbances.

About 9,000 copies of each city map are being printed, showing location of key installations and facilities.

Woman Is New Agency Director

WASHINGTON (AP) — Man's world will shrink a little bit more come Jan. 1 when the first woman ever to head an independent federal regulatory agency takes over the top job at the Interstate Commerce Commission.

She is Virginia Mae Brown, a chic, brunette lawyer and banker's daughter from West Virginia.

The $29,500-a-year job of heading the agency that regulates most of the nation's rail, trucking, bus and barge lines falls to her by rotation.

After a year as vice chairman she succeeds Paul J. Tierney, who remains one of the 81-year-old commission's 11 members.

Mrs. Brown, appointed to the ICC by President Johnson four years ago, puts in an 8-to-5 day with plenty of homework but still finds time for a full family life with her lawyer husband, James V. Brown, and two daughters.

And she's just as much at home in the man's world of transportation.

"Whether you're a man or a woman, you have to keep up, be well informed and provide solid accomplishment," she says.

The trim, well-coiffed Mrs. Brown went to work for the state of West Virginia the year she graduated from the state university's law school—1947.

She scored a number of firsts for a woman during her state career becoming executive secretary to the West Virginia Judicial Council, assistant state attorney, legal counsel to the governor and state insurance commissioner.

Her husband, a college sweetheart, is in private practice in Washington.

The Browns go to occasional social events but Mrs. Brown says "I don't go if Jim can't go with me. I made that decision when we were married."

She says that she has reached a basic philosophy about her work with the 10 men commissioners:

"If you work hard enough at your job and do the best you can, using your best judgment, you become part of the organization you serve. I feel I can do anything I want if I work hard enough."

The ever-growing mountains of paperwork which often go home with her for study after the family dinner she cooks herself, don't faze her a bit.

"It's good exercise for your mind," she says. "It keeps you on your toes."

Minister Dislikes Santa's Publicity

SYRACUSE, N.Y. (AP) — "Dear Santa, drop Dead!," says a Methodist minister who thinks the jolly symbol of Christmas is getting too much publicity.

"Santa's omnipresence from before Thanksgiving has gone beyond the bounds of even mythic decency," the Rev. Dr. John H. McCombe Jr., head of the Hendricks Chapel at Syracuse University, said in his Christmas sermon.

Santa Claus, Dr. McCombe said, "is a ho-ho phony whose jingle is the bell of a cash register," and because of him, "many people are ready to overhaul their observance of this midwinter bash."

"Overexposure, I guess you'd call it," the minister said. "His picture is everywhere—literally. Stores, shops, billboards churches—even a funeral parlor. How much is too much."

Dr. McCombe, a past executive secretary of the American Bible Society who has been at Syracuse for one year said members of his own family had reassessed its own Christmas-time practices and found that they "felt miles away from the main event at the manger."

"The jolly old elf has become a pest," he said, "as have his legions of 'helpers' in red baggy pants with with their banging, begging bells."

So last year, he continued, "We stripped Christmas down to its faith, streamlined its festivities and kept Santa in his place.

"Instead of a quarterback sneak into the living room and a mad scramble to intercept packages, we went into a prearranged huddle in the dining room that included prayers, carols and the reading of the Christmas story from the Bible."

It was, Dr. McCombe said, "the best holiday ever."

Israelis In New Raid On Jordanians

TEL AVIV (AP) — Israeli warplanes raided Jordan again today to attack an Arab guerrilla unit which had fired rockets over the cease-fire line, authoritative sources reported.

The sources said several planes were called in when a police patrol came under fire at Kfar Ruppin, in the Beisan Valley 18 miles south of the Sea of Galilee.

The army would not confirm that the air force was called in but said the Jordanians fired two bazooka rockets as well as small arms at the patrol.

"Fire was returned," a spokesman added. "There were no Israeli casualties."

An army spokesman announced earlier that two Israeli women were slightly injured this morning when an explosive charge went off under a car parked in Gaza City.

THE SEDALIA DEMOCRAT

1868 — For 100 Years Serving the Most Productive Territory in Central Missouri — 1968

Sedalia, Missouri, Wednesday, December 18, 1968 Section B

Altrusa Club Holds Its Christmas Party

The Altrusa Club of Sedalia held its Christmas party at noon Monday, Dec. 16, at Jefferson School, where Mrs. Imogene Peoples, principal and a member of the organization, had arranged for a turkey dinner and a program by the children.

On the stage was a large Christmas tree which was in keeping with the program "Christmas Around the World." It was a very different and fascinating tree which was decorated by the children of the fourth grade taught by Mrs. Joyce Franklin. When Mrs. Franklin's husband found out what she was planning he bought the tree and the children had made decorations that were used on Christmas trees in the different countries.

At the side of the stage was a tapestry-type paper on the wall made by Mrs. Peoples with poinsettias in the center and around the edges "Merry Christmas" written in German, French, Portuguese, Swedish, French, and Irish.

Each child coming on the stage held a large poster depicting Christmas in some other country. The first little girl explaining that our ancestors brought the Christmas tradiions from other countries some in words and songs others in the many customs and decorations.

Holding a picture of the observance, one of the boys told of Ireland where lighted candles occupy every window and open doors give a wlecome. Then there is the feeding of a wren which children put in a cage and go from door to door collecting money for the poor.

In Brazil another shows the altar outside, for there it is mid-summer weather. A fiesta atmosphere prevails and after the devotion service all go to Christmas Eve supper in their homes.

The next poster was of Russia where many of traditions have been lost or forgotten. But there are still family reunions. A sleeping hen is taken from its roost, brought into the home where there are grains of wealth, death, poverty, marriage. The hen awakens, selects its grain and eats it.

Japan has its New Year's celebration. Years ago the Japanese did not cook the first three days of the week so an abundance of rice cakes was made before. The homes and the people must be clean by midnight. Japanese children play games on New Year's similar to ours. On New Year's everyone puts up the national flag on their homes.

Norway has one of the most charming customs, for the people remember the animals. Bundles of grain from the harvest are put on poles in the yard.

The pinata is a part of Christmas loved in Mexico. It is a decorated jar with candies and gifts a stick, turned around and around and then try to hit and break the pinata.

One of the little girls told of the tree, speaking as the tree with the many different decorations of the various countries, cookies, eggs, paper chains,.

After they had told about the Christmas festivities in all the other countries they sang out, "but we like Chrismaas in the United States."

The decorations for the tree and the posters were made by the fouth grade pupils taught by Mrs. Franklin.

The program was presented by the thrid grade class taught by Mrs. Fern Trautman.. Participating the program were: Mark Bunch, James Caton, Sandy Cramer, Mary Heaper, Bobby Jones, Ramona Moore, Henry Randall, Dennis Rogers, Patricia Sickler, Rebbecca Staley, K. C. Steele, Floyd Ulmer, Mike Trotter, Lou Ann McClure, Mark Crouch, Becky Foss, Susan Morris, Joyce Paxton, Lucinda Collins and Greg Corpier.

Mrs. Marjorie Williams, president, presided over the meeting.

The tables were decorated with candles, poinsettias and cedar and at each place were favors, pressed flowers of Israel given by Mrs. Mildred Goddard and ballpoint pens and little bells, gifts of Mrs. Williams. the bells, she said, were to remind them that this was their day to ring the bell for the Salvation Army.
THE Salvation Army.

On a table nearby were attractively wrapped gifts, not gifts for exchange, but gifts which would be taken to the women at Buena Vista. Something else the members do at their Christmas party is to pay the amount they would pay for their dinner at a restaurant, that the extra money over the amount of the dinner at the school might be put in the school lunch fund for children who do not have money for lunches.

Smith-Cotton Chorus To Present 'Messiah'

The Christmas season will be flourished this Friday evening at 8 p.m. when Smith-Cotton's 220 member chorus accompanied by the orchestra presents the Messiah, a contata which represents the coming of Christ.

Highlighting the chorus will be eight soloists: "Comfort Ye" will be sung by Keith Owen and Cheryl Bechtel will sing "Then Shall The Eyes" and "He Shall Feed His Flock"; "But Who May Abide" and "The Day of His Coming" will be presented by Terry Siron while Diana Schilb sings "There Were Shepherds" and "Are Lo the Angels of the Lord" Cindy Swanson will sol in "And the Angel Said Unto Them" and "And Suddenly There Was With The Angel"; Libbie Cain, "Rejoice Greatly, O Daughter of Zion"; Ed Woolery, "Why Do the Nations Rage"; and Jaynee Rhoads, "I Know That My Redeemer Liveth". All soloists were chosen by Mrs. Geraldine Schrader, Head of the Music Department at Smith-Cotton.

Each year many S-C alumni return to see the Messiah and join the finale, the "Hallelujah Chorus". Mrs. Schrader expressed the hope that this presentation will seat a full capacity audience.

Weeks of preparation and steady practice by the chorus and orchestra has made them ready and eager to perform for members of Smith-Cotton and our community. No admission will be charged.

Assemblies Complete School Day

Aside from the Messiah, the music department will also participate in the Junior and Senior High Assemblies Friday sixth hour. Members of the senior High will be excused first to see their assembly which will consist of the orchestra and Madrigal under Mrs. Schader's direction, and the Sophomore Girls Glee Club conducted by Mrs. Mary Louis Waldrep.

Immediately following, the Junior High will be dismissed to see the Junior High Band directed by Mr. Robert Cummings and the Freshman Girls Glee Club led by Mrs. Mary Falukner.

Much is added to the Christmas season with the performance of the various musical groups whether it be orchestra and band or Madrigal caroling throughout the halls.

Holiday Program At Knob Noster

Knob Noster Senior High School students in the musical department will present the annual Christmas program Thursday evening, Dec. 19, in the auditorium.

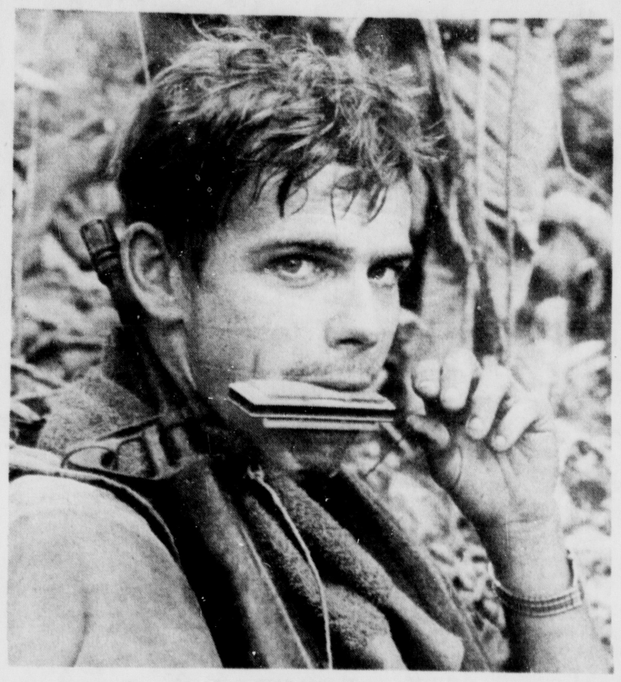

Mrs. Mary Jo Lancaster and Mrs. Jean Foster are the instructors.

Bank Robbery Case Is Set for Jan. 20

KANSAS CITY (AP)—Three men charged in the Nov. 22 holdup of the Garden City Bank in Cass County, Missouri, will go on trial Jan. 20 in federal district court here.

Judge William R. Collinson set the trial date Monday for Richard D. Jackson, 33, Oran M. Young, 39, and James D. Young, 30, all of Grandview, Mo.

Five Bodies Are Found In Wreckage

RICHMOND, Mo. (AP) — A farmer discovered the bodies of four women and a man in the wreckage of a car beneath a bridge on M-10 about four miles west of Richmond Tuesday.

The women were trainees at the Job Corps training center in nearby Excelsior Springs who had been missing since last Friday night. They were Jennie Spotted Elk, 17, Lame Deer, Mont.; Lavon M. Cooke, 19, Lantry, S.D.; Rose A. Knabe, 19, Muenster, Tex.; and Kolene J. Shultz, 20, Ponca City, Okla.

The man was identified as Milton E. Collier, 28, Kansas City, Kan., who had been missing since last Friday.

The highway patrol said the car apparently went off a curve and fell beneath a bridge out of sight from the highway.

Police said it was uncertain when the accident occurred but the frozen bodies had been there for at least two days.

The wreckage was found by Vernon Ogg as he was picking corn.

The DO-IT-ALL

MILNOT does everything milk and cream do at half the cost. With no canned milk taste it's perfect for coffee and cereal. Dieters, it's so rich it whips, but it's low in calories and high in polyunsaturates because it's made with cholesterol-free pure vegetable oil.

Spice Coffee Cake

2 cups unsifted flour	1 large egg, beaten
1 cup sugar	2 tablespoons molasses
1 teaspoon salt	1 cup soured MILNOT (2 or 3 tablespoons lemon juice or vinegar and MILNOT to make 1 cup—this should be thick)
1 teaspoon cinnamon
1 teaspoon nutmeg
½ teaspoon cloves
½ cup shortening	1 teaspoon baking soda

Mix flour, sugar, salt and spices; cut in shortening until like coarse cornmeal. (This can be done on low speed of electric mixer.) Remove ⅓ cup and reserve for topping. To remainder, add egg, molasses and ½ cup MILNOT; stir thoroughly. Add soda to remaining ½ cup MILNOT and stir it in. Pour into greased 9 x 9 pan. Sprinkle on topping:

⅓ cup mixture reserved	½ cup grated or flaked coconut
2 tablespoons brown sugar	2 tablespoons MILNOT

Stir first three ingredients together, spread on top of cake, sprinkle with MILNOT. Bake at 375° 40-45 minutes, or until done.

Warn Against Any Form Of 'Inquisition'

ZURICH, SWITZERLAND (AP) — Some 40 internationally known Roman Catholic theologians stated that the teaching authority of the Pope and his bishops must not impede the theologian's scientific task.

The group, which included at least one scholar whose teachings are under investigation by the Vatican, warned that "any form of inquisition" would cause immeasurable damage to the Church.

The theologians petitioned Pope Paul VI to make six major reforms in the Vatican Curia, the central administration of the Church. Among them was retirement of cardinals on reaching 75.

Signers included leading progressive theologians, among them Prof. Eduard Schillebeeck of Nijmegen, Hans Kueng of Switzerland, Karl Rahner of West Germany, M.D. Chenu and Yves Congar of Paris, and John McKenzie and Ronald Murphy of the United States.

Progressives at the Vatican reported in September that the conservative-dominated Congregaton for the Doctrine of the Faith, the former Holy Office, was preparing a heresy trial against Prof. Schillebeeck, a Dominican father who is theological adviser to the Dutch Catholic bishops.

"We are well aware that we theologians may also err in our theology," the petition said, "but we are convinced that erroneous theological opinions cannot be settled by coercive actions . . ."

King-Size Radish

Ira C. Baldwin, 221 South Gentry, has a garden at his home and this year decided to grow his first crop of California mammoth radishes. What he didn't expect was a radish weighing three and a half pounds, but he got it. Baldwin said there were several others in the crop that were a bit out-sized, but not like the specimen he's holding. (Democrat-Capital Photo)

Headaches From Oil, Not Expected Wealth

PONCA CITY, Okla. (AP) — Several Ponca Citizens have found oil bubbling from their yards in the last six months—but it's brought them headaches instead of wealth.

Sandy areas in the south side of Ponca City began seeping oil last summer. It was also found in the city's sewer system.

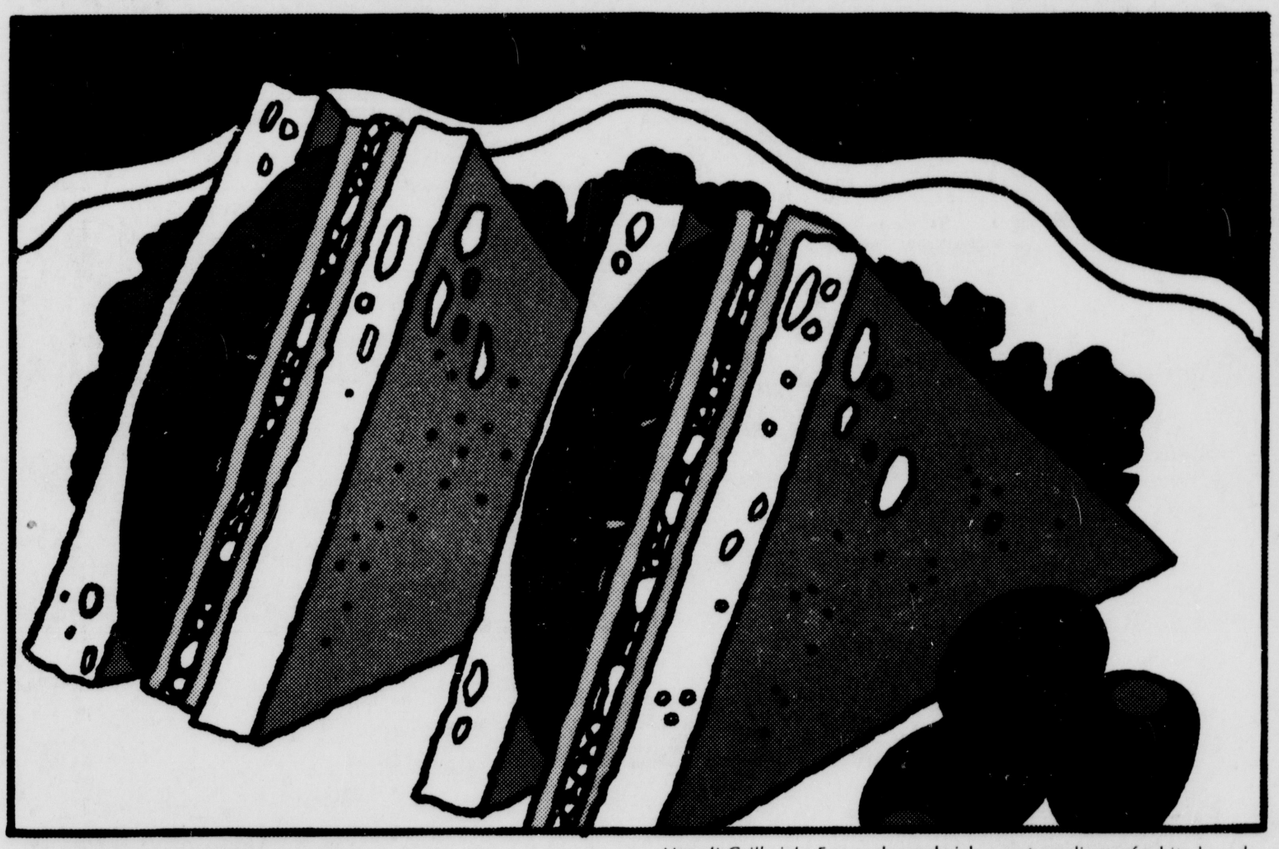

Residents began complaining of gas odors and fumes which caused headaches and tearful eyes.

City officials recently ordered more than 25 holes dug and oil was pumped from some of them. An estimated 2,500 gallons of oil was pumped in 24 hours from one well, but it was followed by water the next day.

Two companies, Sequoia Refining Corp. and Continental Oil Co., have made extensive tests but the source of the oil is still a mystery.

The English surveyor-astronomers Charles Mason and Jeremiah Dixon wound up four years of arduous work in the summer and fall of 1767.

Get the hot outside story on this sandwich...

Napoli Grillwich: For each sandwich, use two slices of white bread, two half-slices of Kraft Natural Mozzarella Sliced, a slice of salami, a tomato slice sprinkled with oregano. Spread outside of sandwich with Miracle Whip; grill on both sides until lightly browned.

Can a sandwich taste new on the outside too? Sure—when you deck it with the uncopyable flavor of Miracle Whip Salad Dressing. The time to try it is now—when you can get an especially good buy on America's favorite, Miracle Whip Salad Dressing—from Kraft. Spend this coupon like 15¢ cash on a jar at your grocer's.
